VOL. LXXXIV—No. 179 CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 20, 1955. PRICE FIVE CENTS

No Merit Seen in Buffer Zone; Senate Debates on Road Aid

MAYOR PROCLAIMS ARMED FORCES DAY—A proclamation is signed by Mayor Frederick H. Stang in his city hall office designating observance of Armed Forces Day on Saturday by displaying of the American Flag throughout Kingston, and calling attention to programs for the public planned Sunday at the armory of the 156th Armored Field Artillery, Manor avenue, Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, and West Point. With the mayor are (l-r) Ralpn A. Keeler, navy recruiter; Sgt. John Norton, air force; Lt. Col. Gordon A. Washburn, First Lieutenant Adrian B. Norton, Lt. Commander James Johnson, assistant project officer for Armed Forces Day in the Mid-Hudson area; Master Sergeant Henry J. Briscoe and Sgt. Lynne Rutter. (Freeman photo)

Democrats Ask Twice Amount

GOP Sticking To Ike's Plan

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The Senate opens debate today on a Democratic bill to double present federal aid spending for road building.

Republicans planned to try to substitute President Eisenhower's plan for it.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D.-Tex.) promised there would be no votes today and probably none until the middle of next week. Both sides expect the issue to be settled by late next week, however.

THE ADMINISTRATION reportedly was striving hard to line up all Republicans possible for its plan. But Johnson and Sen. Gore (D.-Tenn.), author of the rival measure, said they were confident the Democratic bill would win out.

Sen. Bush (R.-Conn.), one of those leading the fight for the Eisenhower proposal, said "we're not conceding anything."

The measure would greatly increase spending on all of the four Federal-aid highway systems—interstate, primary, secondary and urban. For these it would authorize a federal-state outlay of $17,941,000,000 over the next five years. The bill would double the present rate of spending in the first year, and triple it by the fourth and fifth years.

THE EISENHOWER proposal would allot 38 billions of federal and state funds for the four systems over 10 years, but would concentrate 26 billions of this on the 40,000-mile interstate system designed to link up all parts of the nation.

Under the President's plan, the federal government would put up 25 billions for the interstate, or nearly the entire cost, and raise 21 billions of it by a 30-year bond issue.

This feature has been heavily criticized by some Democrats, notably Sen. Byrd (D.-Va.), who contend it involves heavy interest charges and also is a technical violation of the federal debt limit.

THE BONDS would be issued by a federal highway corporation and repaid from gasoline and other motor vehicle taxes. Under the plan, they would not be subject to the present 281 billion dollar federal debt limit, which is scheduled to drop to 275 billions July 1.

Some Democrats have contended also that the Eisenhower plan, by allocating gasoline tax revenues to repay the bonds, would amount to a 30-year appropriations bill. They say that such an appropriation is illegal.

THE GORE bill would allot $8,610,000,000 to the interstate system over five years, with $9 put up in federal funds to each $1 by the states. The added money would be provided by direct federal appropriations, and Gore has suggested a boost from two to three cents a gallon in the federal gasoline tax to help meet the cost.

CAR WRECKED AT TILLSON — William James DeAngelis, 24, of Box 192, East Kingston, was taken to Benedictine Hospital about 10 p. m., Thursday with injuries received when the car he was driving went out of control and struck a 1950 sedan parked in front of the Covered Bridge restaurant on Route 32 in the village of Tillson, state police of the Kingston station reported today.

Hospital authorities said today his condition was fair. He was reported to have suffered contusions and lacerations of the face, chest, pelvis and right knee. X-ray reports have not been completed.

Trooper H. S. Rhodes reported that DeAngelis was proceeding north and rounding a curve to the left when his 1941 sedan left the highway and struck the rear of the parked vehicle, owned by John Callon of RFD 1, Pine Bush. The Callon auto was parked facing east, Trooper Rhodes said. Both vehicles were reported heavily damaged. (Anner photo)

Red Aim Is To Create Weakness

President Wants Armed Neutrality

Washington, May 20 (AP)—U. S. officials find little practical merit so far in proposals for the creation of a European buffer zone of neutral nations between Russia and the western powers.

Like President Eisenhower, they are not willing to write off the whole idea at this point. They believe it to be a project in which the Soviet government is interested, probably for devious purposes. But there are now so many unanswered questions about it that they see little future for it.

THE DOMINANT view of informed diplomats is that Russia's real purpose in diplomatic meneuvering of the last several months, including its agreement to the neutralization of Austria last weekend, is to create in western Europe a condition of weakness—a power vacuum.

According to this theory, a situation would develop which would eventually give opportunity for the Reds to gain control of the vast industrial and manpower resources of western Germany.

That belief is so deeply rooted in the U. S. government that if the Soviets actually have any less aggressive objective in view, it will take long negotiations and extended evidence of their intentions to persuade American officials to change their view.

EISENHOWER, at his news conference Wednesday, avoided criticism of the idea of creating a belt of neutral states across Europe. But he noted that in the case of Austria the capacity for self-defense has been preserved. He indicated that the only neutrality he would be interested in would be an armed neutrality.

This has a direct bearing, authorities said today, on the German problem. For the neutrality which the Soviets proposed for Germany in laying out a world disarmament program 10 days ago was a disarmed neutrality. American and other occupation forces would be withdrawn and Germany would be permitted only the internal forces necessary for law and order—in other words, police.

THAT KIND of neutralized Germany, authorities said, is totally opposed by the United States.

A Germany armed sufficiently to protect itself against sudden attack but not allied with either of the two great power groups would be potentially capable of wielding the balance of power in Europe. It is doubtful whether any government, West or East, would want to create that kind of situation deliberately.

AT THE SAME time, diplomats said it is obvious that Russia is violently opposed to a unified Germany armed and allied with the western powers as West Germany now is in NATO.

The United States has not and may not present, after policy studies are completed, a com-

Beach Is To Open May 28th

The municipal beach at Kingston Point, re-established last year after a lapse of 25 years, will open on a limited basis on the Memorial Day weekend, it was announced today by Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Weather permitting the beach, located on a picturesque cove of the Hudson river, will open Saturday, May 28, and remain open Sunday and Monday, according to a plan adopted Wednesday at a meeting of the Board of Public Works in the mayor's office.

FOLLOWING the Memorial Day weekend the beach will be open on weekends until the public schools close late next month. At that time the beach will resume daily operation.

Mayor Stang said additional benches and picnic tables would be added this year "for the convenience and comfort of users of the beach."

In keeping with the practice established last year, the mayor said, there will be no charge for use of beach facilities.

THE RECONDITIONED beach was dedicated on August 6 last year when Mayor Stang cut the ribbon at ceremonies attended by city officials and a group of several hundred local citizens.

Mayor Stang said at that time the beach was for the people of the city and asked them to treat it as their own.

The mayor reiterated today the importance of full cooperation of children, as well as adults, to insure the utmost safety. Lifeguards will be on duty. First aid equipment will be available.

THE OWNERS of powerboats were requested by the mayor to remain at a safe distance from the beach area so as not to endanger bathers.

On the opening weekend last year the beach attracted approximately 10,000 people.

Pays Tribute to Jews

New York, May 20 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman today paid tribute to the first Jews to land here 300 years ago. "How much poorer, in every respect, America would be if the small group of 23 Jews in the 17th century and those that followed had been refused admittance to our land," he said in a prepared speech at commemorative ceremonies on the tip of Manhattan.

Continues Voyage

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, May 20 (AP) — The submarine Nautilus is off again on her spring shakedown cruise. The U. S. Navy's atomic-powered undersea craft, which put in here earlier this week from San Juan, P. R., pulled out at 4 p. m. yesterday. The destination was not announced.

Russians Keeping Quiet

Conflict Rampant On Red Air Power

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The administration's laconic announcement a week ago on Soviet airpower—whatever its original purpose—has brought on a jumble of conflicting statements by virtually everyone interested, except the Russians.

But today, an air force intelligence office was insisting he was misquoted in reports on his speech which seemed to differ from a news conference comment by President Eisenhower.

THE OFFICER is Brig. Gen. Woodbury M. Burgess, chief of intelligence for the Continental Air Defense Command.

He was reported as saying in an address at Selfridge Field, Mich., Wednesday night: That Russia has fighters and bombers equal to the best U. S. planes and has more of them; that "the Russian air force is currently at least as good as ours, possibly better," and that "one of our troubles is that we underestimate the Russians."

It was only Wednesday morning that Eisenhower scouted the idea, set forth by Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) that the United States may have lost control of the air to Russia. Yesterday, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, air chief of staff, told newsmen that Burgess "did not tell the truth," and that in speaking to some ground observer corps people Burgess had "exaggerated."

BURGESS was summoned hurriedly to Washington yesterday, making two appearances to explain—once to Twining and later to a Senate appropriations subcommittee.

Committee members said Burgess contended he was misquoted, that his prepared speech was cleared by Defense Department Security Review, but that he did answer some questions after the formal speech. Newsmen who heard him said they were sticking by their stories.

New admonishments to officers to be careful in speechmaking were being prepared at the Pentagon—standard operational procedure when trouble like this arises.

SEN. CHAVEZ (D.-N.M.) told reporters that the first order of business of his appropriations subcommittee will be an inquiry into the relative air strength of the United States and Russia.

It all started a week ago—on Friday the 13th as it happened—when the Pentagon issued a two-paragraph statement. It said preparations for a recent air parade over Moscow "establish a new basis of our estimate of Soviet production of the heavy jet bomber and of the medium bomber."

"There also has been an appearance of a Turboprop bomber, and a new all-weather fighter has appeared as expected," the Pentagon statement said, adding that this was "evidence of the

Welcome Group Is Named

A welcoming committee for the British naval frigate, HMS Veryan Bay, which will visit the city from May 27 to June 3, was announced today by Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

The mayor said the committee would confer with Cmdr. W. H. Juniper, naval attache of the British Consulate, this afternoon at city hall in connection with plans for the visit.

PLANS FOR the entertainment of officers and men will also be discussed.

Mayor Stang said members of the ship's company would participate in the Memorial Day parade in Kingston.

The vessel, a 307-foot craft under the command of Cmdr. L. R. P. Lawford, will leave June 3 for Albany, remaining in that city until June 10.

Bernhardt S. Kramer, city clerk, will serve as chairman of the mayor's committee on arrangements. Serving with Kramer will be Capt. Andrew S. Hickey, U.S.N. (Ret.), N. Jansen Fowler, Robert Herzog, Harry LeFevre, Jr., Dr. Steven McGrath, William Fuller, John McCullough, John Larkin, Herbert Lown, Dr. John Krom, Dr. Harold L. Rakov, Dr. Joseph Jacobson and Lt. R. W. Sweeney.

Oppose Paid TV

New York, May 20 (AP)—Columbia Broadcasting System and its affiliated stations have announced they oppose subscription television. Frank Stanton, CBS president, told the first annual conference of CBS affiliated stations yesterday that his company opposes toll TV "because it would hijack the American public into paying for the privilege of looking at its own television sets."

Salk Uncertainty Lasts

Embargo Is Likely Until Next Week

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Current uncertainty over when the program of mass inoculations against polio can get into full swing seemed likely today to continue at least until next week.

The Public Health Service provided no elaboration on its bare announcement of Wednesday that re-clearance of embargoed batches of Salk vaccine would be delayed pending further study.

A spokesman said late yesterday: "The best you can assume is that it will be next week before there are any further releases."

THE HEALTH Service declined to comment on the possibility that a technical advisory committee on dosage, meeting today at nearby Bethesda, Md., might recommend some change in the technique which would have the effect of stretching the dwindling cleared supplies.

The national conference of state epidemiologists, meeting in Atlanta had asked the health service for an opinion on whether it might be possible to reduce the current dose of one cubic centimeter for a shot.

ONE CHANGE in dosage was put into general effect shortly after the April 12 announcement that the Salk vaccine had been found to be safe and effective. Children who took part in last year's trials were given three injections each. The current dosage is two shots spaced a few weeks apart, with a third booster injection about seven months later.

Sen. Hill (D.-Ala.) said in an interview, meanwhile, that he will call the Senate Labor Committee which he heads to meet Monday to consider several bills empowering the government to assume control of the distribution and sale of the vaccine.

HILL PREDICTED that the committee "will approve discretionary powers" despite the testimony from Secretary of Welfare Hobby earlier in the week that there is no need for stand-by control authority.

The health service, a part of Mrs. Hobby's department, is currently engaged in a plant-by-plant study of the manufacturing and testing processes of five laboratories. It has re-cleared some batches by two of the firms—Parke, Davis & Co. and Eli Lilly & Co.—and has emphasized that the delay does not mean anything is wrong with the vaccine produced by a third firm at which the plant inspection is completed, Wyeth, Inc.

EVIDENCE mounted that some segments of the public

Bank Robbers Get $90,000 and Kidnap Cashier

Jacksonville, Ala., May 20 (AP)—Four armed white men robbed the First National Bank of Jacksonville of between $85,000 and $90,000 today, after kidnaping a bank official from his home.

The bandits surprised Jesse N. Wood, assistant vice president and cashier, at his house and forced him to accompany two men to the bank while the other two guarded his wife and two children.

AT THE BANK they waited inside, meeting employes as they arrived for work, tying them up and putting them in a back room.

When a time clock opened the bank vault they scooped up between $85,000 and $90,000 and carried it off in a repossessed bank car. Dan W. Gray, bank vice president, made the estimate of the amount stolen. He said the loss was covered by insurance.

Kennedy to Return

Washington, May 20 20 (AP)—Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) recovered from an operation for a war injury, sent word today he will resume his senatorial duties next week, perhaps Tuesday. Kennedy has been absent from the Senate throughout this session. He underwent the operation on his spine at a New York city hospital last October.

Search Is in Vain

Nairobi, Kenya, May 20 (AP)—Sixteen planes, civil and military, searched in vain today for an airliner believed wrecked in lion country around Mt. Kilimanjaro. The plane, which carried 16 passengers and a crew of 4, was reported missing on Wednesday in a return flight from Durban, South Africa.

Jaycees to Attend State Convention At Niagara Falls

Seven members of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce and their wives will travel to Niagara Falls this weekend to attend the annual New York State Junior C of C convention.

Making the trip with their wives will be Chester Diffley, Jack Doyle, Robert MacKinnon, Robert Matthews, Ernest Rowe, Bela Vitarius and Robert Stedge.

An extensive weekend of planning is on tap for the Jaycees with meetings, caucuses, parties, an award luncheon and election of next year's officers.

Between 500 and 600 Jaycees from throughout the state are expected.

Floods Claim Five Lives, Evacuation Underway

(By The Associated Press)

Flooding rivers surged through towns and farms in parts of four states today in one of the most destructive floods in years in the southwest.

At least five persons were dead. Four school boys were killed during a thunderstorm at Kingsville, Tex., when a lightning bolt struck down 42 youngsters. A Colorado woman drowned.

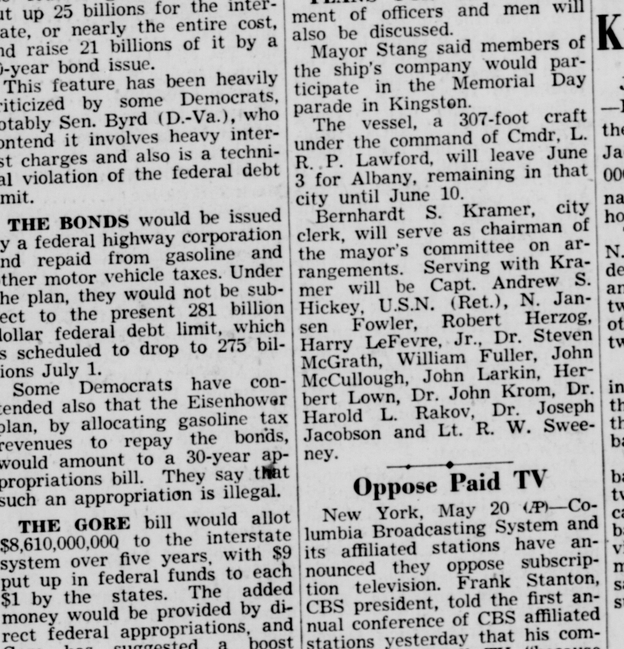

Rain started again in Texas, and more showers were predicted for southern Colorado and northern New Mexico where rain has been falling since Tuesday night.

Mass evacuation was in progress at two southeast Colorado cities, where the State Civil Defense director declared an emergency. Scores of homes and business store were abandoned to rising waters elsewhere in Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas. Northeast New Mexico also was hit by torrential rains.

Authorities in Colorado estimated at least 2,000 persons were isolated or have been evacuated. An additional 300 persons were removed from their homes in scattered Oklahoma communities.

Despite the destructiveness of

Memorial Service Slated Sunday to Honor Sea Dead

Memorial services for veterans of all wars who died at sea will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. on the dock at the foot of Canal street.

In case of inclement weather, the ferry shed of the New York State Bridge Authority will be used with the services starting at 3:20 p. m.

Sponsored by the Kingston Veteran's Association, memorial services are held annually under the supervision of Auxiliary 53, Tappen Camp, No. 1, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War. All veteran organizations and their auxiliaries participate in the observance which each year attracts a good attendance.

All participating organizations have been asked to assemble at Freeman Square at 2:30 p. m. and will proceed to the dock at 2:45 p. m.

Music will be furnished by the Salvation Army Band with Captain Rosalie Davis conducting.

The complete program follows:

Hymn—"Nearer My God to Thee."

Senior Is Upheld Rejecting $400,000 Fortune of Father

New York, May 20 (AP)—A Yale University senior who says he has "two hands and a head" of his own has won the right to reject $400,000 left to him by his father.

Surrogate William T. Collins, quoting ancient Roman philosophers as well as the law, upheld the decision of Eugene F. Suter, Jr., 22, of New York, to renounce the fortune. Trustees of the fund had opposed his action.

The young man, son of a millionaire inventor and machinery manufacturer who died in 1943, has no other source of income.

But he told the trustees of the estate acceptance of the fund would violate his "moral and political" principles.

He received about $36,000 income from the trust on his 21st birthday but immediately gave it away: $11,000 to the American Friends Service Committee; $5,000 to the Socialist Party; $1,500 to the U. S. Grant School for Negroes at Yale; and most of the rest to his mother.

Collins, declaring he made his ruling "reluctantly," said the law was not concerned with the

Democrats Ask Twice Amount

GOP Sticking To Ike's Plan

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The Senate opens debate today on a Democratic bill to double present federal aid spending for road building.

Republicans planned to try to substitute President Eisenhower's plan for it.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D.-Tex.) promised there would be no votes today and probably none until the middle of next week. Both sides expect the issue to be settled by late next week, however.

THE ADMINISTRATION reportedly was striving hard to line up all Republicans possible for its plan. But Johnson and Sen. Gore (D.-Tenn.), author of the rival measure, said they were confident the Democratic bill would win out.

Sen. Bush (R.-Conn.), one of those leading the fight for the Eisenhower proposal, said "we're not conceding anything."

The measure would greatly increase spending on all of the four Federal-aid highway systems—interstate, primary, secondary and urban. For these it would authorize a federal-state outlay of $17,941,000,000 over the next five years. The bill would double the present rate of spending in the first year, and triple it by the fourth and fifth years.

THE EISENHOWER proposal would allot 38 billions of federal and state funds for the four systems over 10 years, but would concentrate 26 billions of this on the 40,000-mile interstate system designed to link up all parts of the nation.

Under the President's plan, the federal government would put up 25 billions for the interstate, or nearly the entire cost, and raise 21 billions of it by a 30-year bond issue.

This feature has been heavily criticized by some Democrats, notably Sen. Byrd (D.-Va.), who contend it involves heavy interest charges and also is a technical violation of the federal debt limit.

THE BONDS would be issued by a federal highway corporation and repaid from gasoline and other motor vehicle taxes. Under the plan, they would not be subject to the present 281 billion dollar federal debt limit, which is scheduled to drop to 275 billions July 1.

Some Democrats have contended also that the Eisenhower plan, by allocating gasoline tax revenues to repay the bonds, would amount to a 30-year appropriations bill. They say that such an appropriation is illegal.

THE GORE bill would allot $8,610,000,000 to the interstate system over five years, with $9 put up in federal funds to each $1 by the states. The added money would be provided by direct federal appropriations, and Gore has suggested a boost from two to three cents a gallon in the federal gasoline tax to help meet the cost.

Red Aim Is To Create Weakness

President Wants Armed Neutrality

Washington, May 20 (AP)—U. S. officials find little practical merit so far in proposals for the creation of a European buffer zone of neutral nations between Russia and the western powers.

Like President Eisenhower, they are not willing to write off the whole idea at this point. They believe it to be a project in which the Soviet government is interested, probably for devious purposes. But there are now so many unanswered questions about it that they see little future for it.

The municipal beach at Kingston Point, re-established last year after a lapse of 25 years, will open on a limited basis on the Memorial Day weekend, it was announced today by Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Weather permitting the beach, located on a picturesque cove of the Hudson river, will open Saturday, May 28, and remain open Sunday and Monday, according to a plan adopted Wednesday at a meeting of the Board of Public Works in the mayor's office.

Oppose Paid TV

New York, May 20 (AP)—Columbia Broadcasting System and its affiliated stations have announced they oppose subscription television. Frank Stanton, CBS president, told the first annual conference of CBS affiliated stations yesterday that his company opposes toll TV "because it would hijack the American public into paying for the privilege of looking at its own television sets."

Salk Uncertainty Lasts

Embargo Is Likely Until Next Week

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Current uncertainty over when the program of mass inoculations against polio can get into full swing seemed likely today to continue at least until next week.

The Public Health Service provided no elaboration on its bare announcement of Wednesday that re-clearance of embargoed batches of Salk vaccine would be delayed pending further study.

A spokesman said late yesterday: "The best you can assume is that it will be next week before there are any further releases."

THE HEALTH Service declined to comment on the possibility that a technical advisory committee on dosage, meeting today at nearby Bethesda, Md., might recommend some change in the technique which would have the effect of stretching the dwindling cleared supplies.

The national conference of state epidemiologists, meeting in Atlanta had asked the health service for an opinion on whether it might be possible to reduce the current dose of one cubic centimeter for a shot.

ONE CHANGE in dosage was put into general effect shortly after the April 12 announcement that the Salk vaccine had been found to be safe and effective. Children who took part in last year's trials were given three injections each. The current dosage is two shots spaced a few weeks apart, with a third booster injection about seven months later.

Sen. Hill (D.-Ala.) said in an interview, meanwhile, that he will call the Senate Labor Committee which he heads to meet Monday to consider several bills empowering the government to assume control of the distribution and sale of the vaccine.

HILL PREDICTED that the committee "will approve discretionary powers" despite the testimony from Secretary of Welfare Hobby earlier in the week that there is no need for stand-by control authority.

The health service, a part of Mrs. Hobby's department, is currently engaged in a plant-by-plant study of the manufacturing and testing processes of five laboratories. It has re-cleared some batches by two of the firms—Parke, Davis & Co. and Eli Lilly & Co.—and has emphasized that the delay does not mean anything is wrong with the vaccine produced by a third firm at which the plant inspection is completed, Wyeth, Inc.

Bank Robbers Get $90,000 and Kidnap Cashier

Jacksonville, Ala., May 20 (AP)—Four armed white men robbed the First National Bank of Jacksonville of between $85,000 and $90,000 today, after kidnaping a bank official from his home.

The bandits surprised Jesse N. Wood, assistant vice president and cashier, at his house and forced him to accompany two men to the bank while the other two guarded his wife and two children.

AT THE BANK they waited inside, meeting employes as they arrived for work, tying them up and putting them in a back room.

When a time clock opened the bank vault they scooped up between $85,000 and $90,000 and carried it off in a repossessed bank car. Dan W. Gray, bank vice president, made the estimate of the amount stolen. He said the loss was covered by insurance.

Kennedy to Return

Washington, May 20 20 (AP)—Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) recovered from an operation for a war injury, sent word today he will resume his senatorial duties next week, perhaps Tuesday. Kennedy has been absent from the Senate throughout this session. He underwent the operation on his spine at a New York city hospital last October.

Search Is in Vain

Nairobi, Kenya, May 20 (AP)—Sixteen planes, civil and military, searched in vain today for an airliner believed wrecked in lion country around Mt. Kilimanjaro. The plane, which carried 16 passengers and a crew of 4, was reported missing on Wednesday in a return flight from Durban, South Africa.

Floods Claim Five Lives, Evacuation Underway

(By The Associated Press)

Flooding rivers surged through towns and farms in parts of four states today in one of the most destructive floods in years in the southwest.

At least five persons were dead. Four school boys were killed during a thunderstorm at Kingsville, Tex., when a lightning bolt struck down 42 youngsters. A Colorado woman drowned.

Rain started again in Texas, and more showers were predicted for southern Colorado and northern New Mexico where rain has been falling since Tuesday night.

Mass evacuation was in progress at two southeast Colorado cities, where the State Civil Defense director declared an emergency. Scores of homes and business store were abandoned to rising waters elsewhere in Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas. Northeast New Mexico also was hit by torrential rains.

Authorities in Colorado estimated at least 2,000 persons were isolated or have been evacuated. An additional 300 persons were removed from their homes in scattered Oklahoma communities.

Despite the destructiveness of

Senior Is Upheld Rejecting $400,000 Fortune of Father

New York, May 20 (AP)—A Yale University senior who says he has "two hands and a head" of his own has won the right to reject $400,000 left to him by his father.

Surrogate William T. Collins, quoting ancient Roman philosophers as well as the law, upheld the decision of Eugene F. Suter, Jr., 22, of New York, to renounce the fortune. Trustees of the fund had opposed his action.

The young man, son of a millionaire inventor and machinery manufacturer who died in 1943, has no other source of income.

But he told the trustees of the estate acceptance of the fund would violate his "moral and political" principles.

He received about $36,000 income from the trust on his 21st birthday but immediately gave it away: $11,000 to the American Friends Service Committee; $5,000 to the Socialist Party; $1,500 to the U. S. Grant School for Negroes at Yale; and most of the rest to his mother.

Collins, declaring he made his ruling "reluctantly," said the law was not concerned with the

Workers Testify In Damis Suit

Persons who worked in the shop with Mary Damis were sworn this morning in Supreme Court in her $150,000 action for damages against the Adirondack Transit Lines and David E. Kunker and testified that prior to the accident on November 10, 1948 she worked steadily and did not experience any "spells." After the accident she suffered serious "spells" and had to be taken home, it is contended.

Medical testimony on behalf of plaintiff had occupied the first portion of the trial. Plaintiff contends she was seriously injured when a bus turned over while she was en route home. She alleges she was so severely injured that she has been unable to work, although she returned to work after the accident but suffered illness which it is alleged was due to her injuries in the accident.

The case is being tried in Supreme Court before Justice Hamm and a jury.

Burns to Death

Warsaw, May 20 (AP)—A truck driver burned to death, a house was flattened and three persons injured when a truck veered off the street today in this Wyoming county village. The driver was identified as Richard Slisz, 29, of (30 North Central avenue) Buffalo. The truck belonged to Fazlines, Inc., a Buffalo firm. A baby sitter in the house, 17-year-old Pearl Prial, suffered back injuries. She was watching the two young sons of Mrs. Elizabeth Valentine, occupant of the house. The youngsters reportedly were not injured. Deputy Sheriff Winton James said "the house looked like it was bombed."

Actress to Wed Carey

Grossinger, May 20 (AP)—Movie starlet Lucy Marlowe, 22, and Andy Carey, 23-year-old New York Yankees third baseman, announced their engagement today at this Catskill Mountains resort. They plan to be married next fall after the end of the baseball season. Friends said they had known each other for two years. The announcement was made as the couple prepared to leave for New York where the Yankees play the Baltimore Orioles tonight. Miss Marlowe recently appeared in "A Star Is Born."

Special History

Norfolk, Va. (AP) — A. J. Badeaux, retired from the navy and operating a parking lot, thinks he has a unique history of World War 2. Badeaux toured the world on navy ships and bought newspapers in the ports he visited. He can follow the war by the dates of the papers and also see what else was going on in Bombay, Capetown, Glasgow, Reykjavik and other ports.

Man With a Gun

Tucumcari, N. M. (AP)—An alert service station officer phoned ahead to state police that two men, one of them armed, were heading their way. A roadblock was set up, and the car stopped. Cautiously, officers moved up on it. There sat Detective Chief Frank Stephenson of Albuquerque, his pistol at hand. He was taking a prisoner back to Albuquerque.

The United States exported 304,645 tons of cotton seed oil in 1954 compared to a prewar annual average of 3,347 tons.

Columbia Area Holds Up Shots

Claverack, May 20 (AP)—Outbreaks of children's diseases have forced indefinite postponement of first anti-polio vaccine shots for about 224 Columbia county children.

In Hillsdale, Hughes Dearlove, principal of the Roeliff-Jansen Central School announced today that the shots would be delayed for 144 children.

Physicians had advised the move, he said, because of the prevalence of colds and "a few cases of scarlet fever."

Ten per cent of the school's 1,000 pupils were absent, he said.

Yesterday, Salk shots for about 80 children in the Claverack area were postponed indefinitely because of an outbreak of measles.

Conflict Rampant

modern technology of the Soviet aircraft industry and the advances which are being made by them."

IN VARIOUS places, there were various explanations, official and otherwise, like these:

1. The public should be kept informed of the known progress of Soviet air power as related to the United States' own defense plans (the Pentagon explanation).

2. The administration reportedly had heard that Democratic critics of its pending military budget were planning to discuss in Congress the growing Soviet air menace. Watched especially was Symington, a former secretary of the air force. Symington on Friday told reporters he had no plans for making a talk then. But the terse Pentagon statement provided him ammunition early this week for a blast from the Senate floor.

3. Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott said he was responsible for originating the Pentagon announcement. He said he thought the American people "should know the facts because they had been published in London."

4. Sen. George (D.-Ga.) said the report may have been intended to impress Congress with the need to provide liberal funds for the air force. The military budget is now pending in Congress.

AFTER Symington had spoken, Eisenhower told his Wednesday news conference that he had approved the Pentagon statement. He said, too, that in the Moscow aerial parade were a few planes which, by the size of their engines, the size of the airframe, would certainly be capable of long-distance flight, carrying heavy loads. But what the condition of these planes was inside, their readiness and their technical perfection, nobody knows, said the President.

The air intelligence officer, Burgess, in the reported quotations from his speech, seemed much more certain about the capabilities of Soviet aircraft.

Red Aim Is . . .

pletely negative attitude on the question of a neutral grouping of European states.

Instead, both the President and Secretary of State Dulles in effect have said they would challenge the Soviets to pull back their own forces and—if they want a neutral buffer—to create one out of the satellite states.

TO DATE the best information available to the U. S. government indicates that the Soviet Union is not the least bit interested in rolling back its power from its forward positions in the heart of Europe to the USSR's national boundaries.

It is also true that to date the Big Three western governments have shown no interest in permitting Germany to become a power vacuum into which Communist strength could eventually move nor in permitting it to become the pivotal state in the world power balance through armed neutrality.

Democrats . . .

Pa.) and Cotton (R.-N.H.) released a minority public works committee report contending the sum proposed in the Gore bill was inadequate to build up the interstate system, which they called "the backbone of our highways."

They said the Gore bill "scatters billions of politically guided federal dollars over the country for the next five years as though they were shot from a blunderbuss."

"They (the dollars) may affect votes but they do not solve this country's road problem," the report said.

Plans Completed For Horse Show

Woodstock, May 20—Trophies for the ninth annual Horse Show of the Woodstock Riding Club to be held Sunday, June 12, at the club's Ohayo Mountain ring, were shown at the club's meeting Thursday night. The first class will enter the ring at 9 a. m., when the judging will start.

Griffin Herrick, president, reported that the barn now being built on the Riding Club field is going ahead as scheduled and will be completed in time for the horse show. He has been authorized to have the necessary electric poles put in running electricity to the stable. Freilan Van De Bogart, member of the club, will install the wiring.

Two new members were unanimously voted to membership in the club. They were Frank Banks of the Barrington Lodge Stables on the Spillway Road and Richard Havestroh of Olive Bridge.

Announcement was made that after the July meeting, future meetings will be held in the tack room of the barn at the field. The annual meeting in July will be held in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church.

were confused and perhaps disturbed by the uncertainty.

Dr. Elmer Hess of Erie, Pa., president-elect of the American Medical Assn. (AMA) told newsmen at Atlantic City, N. J., there is no need for "so much hysteria" over the program. He said he regarded it as probable that every one of the 77 confirmed post-inoculation cases of polio was already in the incubation stage when the shots were given.

On that point, a University of Pittsburgh spokesman said Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the vaccine's developer, had been misunderstood when news stories quoted him as saying the post-inoculation cases were "purely coincidental."

The spokesman said Salk had declared that "many of the cases . . . appear to have been coincidental," and he added: "However, Dr. Salk had indicated further that all cases were still under investigation, this meaning that no definite conclusion could be drawn . . . at this time."

wisdom or motive of Suter's renunciation, but only with its legality.

He said Suter's "insistence that as a member of a free society, with a freedom of choice, he cannot be yoked by this inheritance, is supported by law."

Institutions frequently have spurned gifts which they deemed hostile to their purposes, and an individual has the same right, said Collins. Then, turning to the philosophers, he said:

"Centuries ago, the Roman poet, Lucretius, enunciated the truism that 'what is food for one may be fierce poison to others'. To this donee, the gift is not food, but a cup of hemlock which the law cannot force him to swallow."

the four-day storm, it brought the first substantial moisture of the year to once-rich agricultural and ranching areas. Texas logged up to 15 inches of rain and Oklahoma 12.

At Conchas Dam, in New Mexico, the rains increased water storage by 60,000 acre-feet. That was typical of once-dry reservoirs throughout the irrigated west.

Highways were closed throughout much of the four-state area as boiling streams reached flood stage. Bridges were washed out or threatened. Communications were disrupted. At Lufkin, Tex., a windstorm partially unroofed a supermarket while 80 persons scurried to safety.

Flood warnings were issued for the North Canadian and Cimarron rivers in Oklahoma, and for the Canadian river in New Mexico. The Canadian knocked out one bridge and closed state Highway 58 Thursday near Springer, N. M.

Most critical flood area, however, was in southeast Colorado.

At Trinidad, the Purgatoire river which normally courses at one to two foot depth reached 25 feet and closed four bridges linking the city's northern and southern halves.

Three homes were swept away by the raging torrents, and 10 railroad cars toppled over at the city's inundated Santa Fe railroad yards. Ten blocks of property were under water.

It was the worst flood in Trinidad's history.

Four miles south of that city of 12,204, the village of Starkville was swamped when Raton creek overflowed its banks. It washed away three homes and the Sacred Heart Church.

Workers Testify In Damis Suit

Persons who worked in the shop with Mary Damis were sworn this morning in Supreme Court in her $150,000 action for damages against the Adirondack Transit Lines and David E. Kunker and testified that prior to the accident on November 10, 1948 she worked steadily and did not experience any "spells." After the accident she suffered serious "spells" and had to be taken home, it is contended.

Medical testimony on behalf of plaintiff had occupied the first portion of the trial. Plaintiff contends she was seriously injured when a bus turned over while she was en route home. She alleges she was so severely injured that she has been unable to work, although she returned to work after the accident but suffered illness which it is alleged was due to her injuries in the accident.

The case is being tried in Supreme Court before Justice Hamm and a jury.

Burns to Death

Warsaw, May 20 (AP)—A truck driver burned to death, a house was flattened and three persons injured when a truck veered off the street today in this Wyoming county village. The driver was identified as Richard Slisz, 29, of (30 North Central avenue) Buffalo. The truck belonged to Fazlines, Inc., a Buffalo firm. A baby sitter in the house, 17-year-old Pearl Prial, suffered back injuries. She was watching the two young sons of Mrs. Elizabeth Valentine, occupant of the house. The youngsters reportedly were not injured. Deputy Sheriff Winton James said "the house looked like it was bombed."

Actress to Wed Carey

Grossinger, May 20 (AP)—Movie starlet Lucy Marlowe, 22, and Andy Carey, 23-year-old New York Yankees third baseman, announced their engagement today at this Catskill Mountains resort. They plan to be married next fall after the end of the baseball season. Friends said they had known each other for two years. The announcement was made as the couple prepared to leave for New York where the Yankees play the Baltimore Orioles tonight. Miss Marlowe recently appeared in "A Star Is Born."

Special History

Norfolk, Va. (AP) — A. J. Badeaux, retired from the navy and operating a parking lot, thinks he has a unique history of World War 2. Badeaux toured the world on navy ships and bought newspapers in the ports he visited. He can follow the war by the dates of the papers and also see what else was going on in Bombay, Capetown, Glasgow, Reykjavik and other ports.

Man With a Gun

Tucumcari, N. M. (AP)—An alert service station officer phoned ahead to state police that two men, one of them armed, were heading their way. A roadblock was set up, and the car stopped. Cautiously, officers moved up on it. There sat Detective Chief Frank Stephenson of Albuquerque, his pistol at hand. He was taking a prisoner back to Albuquerque.

The United States exported 304,645 tons of cotton seed oil in 1954 compared to a prewar annual average of 3,347 tons.

Columbia Area Holds Up Shots

Claverack, May 20 (AP)—Outbreaks of children's diseases have forced indefinite postponement of first anti-polio vaccine shots for about 224 Columbia county children.

In Hillsdale, Hughes Dearlove, principal of the Roeliff-Jansen Central School announced today that the shots would be delayed for 144 children.

Physicians had advised the move, he said, because of the prevalence of colds and "a few cases of scarlet fever."

Ten per cent of the school's 1,000 pupils were absent, he said.

Yesterday, Salk shots for about 80 children in the Claverack area were postponed indefinitely because of an outbreak of measles.

Conflict Rampant

modern technology of the Soviet aircraft industry and the advances which are being made by them."

IN VARIOUS places, there were various explanations, official and otherwise, like these:

1. The public should be kept informed of the known progress of Soviet air power as related to the United States' own defense plans (the Pentagon explanation).

2. The administration reportedly had heard that Democratic critics of its pending military budget were planning to discuss in Congress the growing Soviet air menace. Watched especially was Symington, a former secretary of the air force. Symington on Friday told reporters he had no plans for making a talk then. But the terse Pentagon statement provided him ammunition early this week for a blast from the Senate floor.

3. Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott said he was responsible for originating the Pentagon announcement. He said he thought the American people "should know the facts because they had been published in London."

4. Sen. George (D.-Ga.) said the report may have been intended to impress Congress with the need to provide liberal funds for the air force. The military budget is now pending in Congress.

AFTER Symington had spoken, Eisenhower told his Wednesday news conference that he had approved the Pentagon statement. He said, too, that in the Moscow aerial parade were a few planes which, by the size of their engines, the size of the airframe, would certainly be capable of long-distance flight, carrying heavy loads. But what the condition of these planes was inside, their readiness and their technical perfection, nobody knows, said the President.

The air intelligence officer, Burgess, in the reported quotations from his speech, seemed much more certain about the capabilities of Soviet aircraft.

Red Aim Is . . .

pletely negative attitude on the question of a neutral grouping of European states.

Instead, both the President and Secretary of State Dulles in effect have said they would challenge the Soviets to pull back their own forces and—if they want a neutral buffer—to create one out of the satellite states.

TO DATE the best information available to the U. S. government indicates that the Soviet Union is not the least bit interested in rolling back its power from its forward positions in the heart of Europe to the USSR's national boundaries.

It is also true that to date the Big Three western governments have shown no interest in permitting Germany to become a power vacuum into which Communist strength could eventually move nor in permitting it to become the pivotal state in the world power balance through armed neutrality.

Democrats . . .

Pa.) and Cotton (R.-N.H.) released a minority public works committee report contending the sum proposed in the Gore bill was inadequate to build up the interstate system, which they called "the backbone of our highways."

They said the Gore bill "scatters billions of politically guided federal dollars over the country for the next five years as though they were shot from a blunderbuss."

"They (the dollars) may affect votes but they do not solve this country's road problem," the report said.

City Hall Trees Being Removed

Two trees, possibly three, on the front grounds of the city hall are being removed by Arboreal Associates, 9 Andrew street.

The trees, all elms, are reported to be dead or dying. Two are located at the corner of the lawn toward Kingston Hospital, the other one at the opposite end of the grounds—all three overlooking Broadway.

Other trees in front of city hall are being trimmed and sprayed. Work on trees in the Academy Green section has already been completed. The work was authorized at a recent meeting of the Common Council.

Sees Special Session

Hartford, Conn., May 20 (AP)—Gov. Ribicoff said today that unless Republicans come up with a more liberal rent control proposal ,a special session of the General Assembly may be necessary next year. The governor reiterated at his news conference that he is against special sessions. The Legislature, he said, should so arrange its affairs that the need for one is held to a minimum.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 20 (AP)—The stock market advanced today in a halting manner with aircrafts weak.

In the early afternoon, prices were between 1 and 2 points higher at the outside to around a point lower.

Trading was moderate at a pace under yesterday's 2,380,000 shares.

Aside from the lower aircrafts, most major divisions were definitely higher including steels, motors, merchandising shares, coppers, chemicals, railroads, airlines, and ptilities.

Among higher stocks were Santa Fe railroad, American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Kennecott Copper, Sears Roebuck, R. H. Macy, Gimbels, RCA, American Cyanamid, Allied Chemical, and United Air Lines.

Plans Completed For Horse Show

Woodstock, May 20—Trophies for the ninth annual Horse Show of the Woodstock Riding Club to be held Sunday, June 12, at the club's Ohayo Mountain ring, were shown at the club's meeting Thursday night. The first class will enter the ring at 9 a. m., when the judging will start.

Griffin Herrick, president, reported that the barn now being built on the Riding Club field is going ahead as scheduled and will be completed in time for the horse show. He has been authorized to have the necessary electric poles put in running electricity to the stable. Freilan Van De Bogart, member of the club, will install the wiring.

Two new members were unanimously voted to membership in the club. They were Frank Banks of the Barrington Lodge Stables on the Spillway Road and Richard Havestroh of Olive Bridge.

Announcement was made that after the July meeting, future meetings will be held in the tack room of the barn at the field. The annual meeting in July will be held in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Rebekahs Name Dates For Sale and Fair

Woodstock, May 20—Plans were made to hold a rummage and food sale Saturday, June 25, at the regular meeting of Agapae Rebekah Lodge, Wednesday evening at the Bearsville Lodge Hall. The sale will begin at 10 a. m. at the Town Hall. The date was also set for the annual fair and dinner to be held Thursday, August 25.

It was announced that there will be initiation of members June 15.

An invitation was received from Maratanza Rebekah Lodge of Ellenville to attend initiation of members Thursday, May 26, at 8 p. m. at their lodge room.

A new refreshment committee for June was named: Mrs. Ida Werner, Mrs. Ann Lettel and Mrs. Barbara Gibson.

Mrs. Anna Mae Osrander, Mrs. Orpha Snyder, Mrs. Anna Elwyn, Mrs. Marcelle Holumzer, Mrs. Mae Hung, Mrs. Walenah Cashdollar and Mrs. Olive Shultis attended the session of the New York State Rebekah Assembly in Saratoga Springs on Wednesday.

At the next meeting, the past noble grands will be entertained. After meeting closed refreshments were served.

Motor Club Plans Picnic Rally Sunday

Woodstock, May 20—The "Picnic Rally" of the Woodstock Motor Club will be held Sunday, June 12, starting at the Woodstock Playhouse at 11 a. m. Jerry Gardner of 11 Bennett avenue, Saugerties, will serve as rally master. Those participating in the rally are requested to bring their own picnic lunches.

were confused and perhaps disturbed by the uncertainty.

Dr. Elmer Hess of Erie, Pa., president-elect of the American Medical Assn. (AMA) told newsmen at Atlantic City, N. J., there is no need for "so much hysteria" over the program. He said he regarded it as probable that every one of the 77 confirmed post-inoculation cases of polio was already in the incubation stage when the shots were given.

On that point, a University of Pittsburgh spokesman said Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the vaccine's developer, had been misunderstood when news stories quoted him as saying the post-inoculation cases were "purely coincidental."

The spokesman said Salk had declared that "many of the cases . . . appear to have been coincidental," and he added: "However, Dr. Salk had indicated further that all cases were still under investigation, this meaning that no definite conclusion could be drawn . . . at this time."

wisdom or motive of Suter's renunciation, but only with its legality.

He said Suter's "insistence that as a member of a free society, with a freedom of choice, he cannot be yoked by this inheritance, is supported by law."

Institutions frequently have spurned gifts which they deemed hostile to their purposes, and an individual has the same right, said Collins. Then, turning to the philosophers, he said:

"Centuries ago, the Roman poet, Lucretius, enunciated the truism that 'what is food for one may be fierce poison to others'. To this donee, the gift is not food, but a cup of hemlock which the law cannot force him to swallow."

Floods Claim

the four-day storm, it brought the first substantial moisture of the year to once-rich agricultural and ranching areas. Texas logged up to 15 inches of rain and Oklahoma 12.

At Conchas Dam, in New Mexico, the rains increased water storage by 60,000 acre-feet. That was typical of once-dry reservoirs throughout the irrigated west.

Highways were closed throughout much of the four-state area as boiling streams reached flood stage. Bridges were washed out or threatened. Communications were disrupted. At Lufkin, Tex., a windstorm partially unroofed a supermarket while 80 persons scurried to safety.

Flood warnings were issued for the North Canadian and Cimarron rivers in Oklahoma, and for the Canadian river in New Mexico. The Canadian knocked out one bridge and closed state Highway 58 Thursday near Springer, N. M.

Most critical flood area, however, was in southeast Colorado.

At Trinidad, the Purgatoire river which normally courses at one to two foot depth reached 25 feet and closed four bridges linking the city's northern and southern halves.

Three homes were swept away by the raging torrents, and 10 railroad cars toppled over at the city's inundated Santa Fe railroad yards. Ten blocks of property were under water.

It was the worst flood in Trinidad's history.

Four miles south of that city of 12,204, the village of Starkville was swamped when Raton creek overflowed its banks. It washed away three homes and the Sacred Heart Church.

Cutting Waste Is Hoover's Plan to Save Taxpayers

New York, May 20 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover says his commission recommendations will show how to save taxpayers six billion dollars and enable the federal treasury to recoup another seven billion.

Hoover spoke last night before the 39th annual meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board.

Hoover, head of the commission on organization of the executive branch of the government, said his proposed savings were based on "elimination of waste and not on strangulation of defense or public welfare."

"I MAY TELL you," he said, "that in the reports which we will have completed in the next few days, our separate task forces estimate that an aggregate of six billion dollars of savings could be made to the taxpayer.

"And beyond that there could be returned to the treasury about seven billion dollars * * *"

The latter savings, he said, could be affected through liquidation of government agencies and functions which "Complete with private business."

"OUR JOB," Hoover said, "is to search out the system of organization and administration which need repairs. Some of the ways of managing were good enough before the government multiplied its size about 14 times in 25 years."

He predicted that 70 per cent of the commission's new recommendations will be put into effect. The same percentage recommendations made by a similar commission headed by Hoover.

Trustees Appointed For Historic Site

Albany, May 20 (AP) — Three appointments to the Board of Trustees of Washington's Headquarters, an historic site in Newburgh, were announced today by Gov. Harriman's office.

Harriman reappointed Dr. Carlos E. Fallon of Newburgh to a full five-year term. Fallon has been chairman of the 10-member, unsalaried body.

Col. Harry S. Monell of Vails Gate also was named to a five-year term, to succeed Jacob A. Decker of Newburgh, whose term expired last April 1.

Colin T. Jackson of Newburgh was designated to serve until April 1, 1956, filling out a term left vacant by the death of the Rev. A. Elwood Corning, also of Newburgh.

The board supervises care of a two-century-old house and seven-acre estate used by General George Washington as a headquarters during the Revolutionary War.

The appointments are subject to Senate confirmation. But the appointees may serve while the Legislature in in recess.

STRATEGIC PIPELINE NEARS FINISH—Late in May the first oil is expected to flow through the strategic Haines-Fairbanks 620-mile military fuel pipeline shown on this Newsmap. Its completion will greatly strengthen defense of Alaska, because the pipeline will provide an easier-protected, swifter supplement to the exposed sea route hitherto employed. Diesel, jet and motor fuels will flow through the $40,000,000 line, serving Ladd and Eieleson Air Force Bases and military installations along the Fairbanks-Anchorage-Kodiak defense line. First pumping of 50,000 gallons of oil will begin tests which will be completed in September.

50 Dairy Cattle Lost in Barn Fire

Sherburne, May 20 (AP)—Fifty head of dairy cattle perished yesterday as a wind-whipped fire destroyed a large barn on a farm five miles southeast of this Chenango county village.

Fire Chief Jesse Chantler estimated the loss at $40,000. The cause was not determined.

The owner of the farm, Max Bagnall, said he had just put the cows in the barn and set out to round up three strays when he looked back and saw fire and smoke pouring from the frame structure.

The fire also destroyed a silo attached to the barn, and a quantity of equipment.

Couldn't Tell Defendant

Boston, May 20 (AP)—After seven days of trial and four hours of deliberation, a Federal Court jury asked yesterday who's the defendant?" The jury reported it couldn't decide whether Guy's Super Service Garage Inc., or Guy R. Pezznola, its treasurer, was the defendant in a tax evasion case. Judge Francis J. W. Ford suggested that "a simple reading of the indictment should provide the answer." It did. The jury convicted Pezznola on the charge of evading $6,276 in taxes for the years 1948 and 1949. Sentence was deferred pending appeal.

YIELDING THE PARTY LINE

Mrs. Mary L. Kayes of Rhinebeck has been found guilty of refusing to yield a telephone party line when a volunteer fireman tried to report a fire. Report of this incident led the New York State Legislature to pass a law requiring the yielding of the line under such conditions. She was indicted under this law.

Mrs. Kayes said she "did not believe the barn was really on fire." This indicates two evils of party line monopolizing. First, lengthy chatter which keeps other subscribers from getting fair use of the line. Second, abuse of the emergency privilege by people who cry emergency when there is none.

The fact that a person has been found guilty under this law should serve as a reminder to all telephone users that there is a law in this state requiring the relinquishment of a party line in case of fire and that failure to do so is an offense with penalty.

Death and destruction can result from failure to yield a telephone line when someone wants to make an emergency call. Such refusal saddles heavy responsibility on the person who refuses.

The telephone often is the only instrumentality for reporting fires quickly enough to summon aid in time. And in the rural areas the people depend on the party lines. Their use presupposes that all parties will show courtesy, fairness and not overstep their just right.

AID AND DEFENSE

Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that our program of foreign economic aid is indispensable to our military security. The committee was holding hearings on President Eisenhower's request for $3,530,000,000 in foreign aid, more than half of which would be used to strength our allies economically.

Admiral Radford made several important points. He said that our defense burden would be a great deal heavier than it is were it not for the "strength generated in the last five years by our allies." He said that the growth of this strength has allowed the United States to reduce the number of troops needed in the Western Pacific.

Spending billions of dollars abroad is not a pleasant prospect. It means our taxes will remain high and no one wants high taxes. But there seems to be no other choice. The crisis in the world is not of our choosing. The fate of the free world is tied to our own. We cannot survive if our allies fall either through economic weaknesses or from military assault.

Admiral Radford, as chairman of the Joint Chiefs, is our number one military authority. He says the foreign aid appropriations are necessary, not from a standpoint of altruism but from absolute military necessity. We may as well resign ourselves to the fact that we will have to afford it.

CAUTIOUS ON DISARMING

The free world would welcome any really effective plan for reducing armaments.

The race between the East and West for arms sumpremacy is costly. If it could be stopped or slowed down it would mean that arms budgets could be cut and the money spent for things of more lasting benefit—schools, hospitals, roads and raising living standards.

From time to time proposals are made for ways to cut armaments. Those made by the Russians, however, usually want to restrict atomic weapons and do not want any restrictions placed on manpower or conventional weapons.

Several times the United States has proposed that all armaments be reduced, that provisions be made to permit continuing programs of inspection in all of the countries which agree to disarm, to make certain that they adhere to the spirit of the agreement. So far all such proposals have been rejected by the Reds.

This does not mean that such attempts should be abandoned. It is important to make every effort to accomplish that. But it is necessary to remain aware that anything less than effective controls would be worse than no controls at all. To cut our armaments without having assurance that the Communists are doing the same would be inexcusable folly.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

PICASSO'S DOVES

G. F. Hudson of Oxford University starts an article as follows:

"Sir Winston Churchill once said that the rulers of the Soviet Union do not want war, but they want the fruits of war. By this he meant that, without a real intention to risk a mortal clash of arms, they endeavor to gain by bluster, truculence, and threats objectives such as are not normally to be reached by peaceful negotiations, but only by victory on the field of battle. . . ."

But now the truculence and bluster have been displaced by smiles and gentle private letters and proposals for mutual exchanges of visits. We are approaching an era of sweetness and light.

Sometimes small events begin great courses. When William Randolph Hearst, Jr., associated with a name and a press that had long been violently anti-Russian, was tipped off that he could get a visa to enter Soviet Russia, when he and his party got to Moscow and discovered that the red carpet was rolled out for them, it meant something more than was warranted by the visit. The Russians stated a revision of policy through what they believed to be the most antagonistic channel available to them.

And they have continued to pursue the course of a revised policy. Their purpose is to win by honey what they failed to win by prussic acid. And the change of policy may go further than is generally believed because the alternative is war—the most disastrous war in all history. Such a war would defeat the Marxist program of converting the human race to Communism. It would defeat everything because it would destroy everything. There would be no human race to convert.

In a word, it is becoming more obvious, as this revision of policy unfolds, that in Soviet calculations the margins between peace and war are closing and that it is impossible any longer to delay writing a contract for peace because the alternative must be war.

If this estimate of the Russian approach to world problems is correct, we are on the verge of a struggle for survival through peace. By that is meant that while prolonged negotiations continue, neither side need or will make such compromises as could destroy their social and economic systems. Nevertheless, if there is a will to peace, come what may there will be no war—not even an accidental war.

Perhaps the explanation lies in the cold, arithmetical fact that both sides know that neither side can afford forever stockpiling atom and hydrogen bombs which become obsolete with each new experimental explosion. And each side knows that with the first use of the hydrogen bomb, no matter who starts first, the history of our civilization is ended. Karl Marx's structure of periods in the struggle of class against class will only be a memory as the economics of David Ricardo, Adam Smith and John Maynard Keynes will be memories, perhaps to be found 20 centuries from now in the debris of our ancient and forgotten civilization.

All this is pure nihilism and therefore must be rejected by a Marxist as by a humanitarian. These bombs, if we are to believe Thomas E. Murray of the Atomic Energy Commission, do not leave room or time even for the struggle for existence. They are the end. I listened to Murray describe the effects of the bombs; to listen was to enter purgatory.

Therefore the only answer can be peace. And peace it somehow will be. The fact that we have gone through 10 years of approach to war without actually becoming involved in a world-wide devastation, and the further fact that neither side has established its prowess by using whatever bombs were available to it in incidents that might have become wars, cannot go unnoted.

During all this time, however, the "Cold War" bred distrust and hatred and fear. The emergence of Red China, with its fierce demands, complicated the situation as much for Russia as for us. The defeat of Chou En-lai at Bandung must have sobered the Chinese sufficiently to calm the waters about Formosa if nowhere else. At any rate, Quemoy and Matsu were not seized when everyone expected that they would be.

Can one trust this estimate of the situation? I do not know, but this is what it looks like at this moment.

That Body of Yours

RHEUMATIC FEVER

It is unfortunate but true that the person who once has had pneumonia is all the more likely to have it again. This also is the case with rheumatic fever. Consequently, the aim of our research workers and physicians is to try to prevent the occurrence of the first attack of rheumatic fever. With the advent of the modern antibiotic drugs a few years ago (penicillin, sulfa), it became possible to protect the general population from first attacks of rheumatic fever by prompt and effective treatment of streptococci pharyngitis ("strep" sore throat). The best results were obtained when treatment with penicillin was begun within 48 hours of the onset of sore throat.

There are various ways in which penicillin is given. If it is given by mouth, a daily dose of at least 500,000 units must be taken for 10 days. If it is given by injection under the skin or into a vein, daily injections of 300,000 units of procaine penicillin for 10 days is considered effective; or just one injection of a new penicillin compound known as benzathine penicillin, 600,000 to 1,200,000 units, has been found highly effective.

Suppose a person has had one bout of rheumatic fever; how can he be protected against future attacks? Here the drug sulfadiazine has been of great help. Investigations have estimated that it reduces the number of recurrences of rheumatic fever by at least 85 per cent. It is easy to administer, is not too expensive, and has very few side effects. The dose of the drug recommended is 1 gram daily.

However, while sulfadiazine is of great value in preventing new infection, it is a drug which suppresses rather than kills the germs and therefore it was thought desirable to find a drug which would kill the germs causing rheumatic fever. Here again the new drug benzathine penicillin was used in the amount of 1,200,000 units injected every four weeks. This was given to a group of 145 out-patients recently recovered from rheumatic fever. During an observation period of 21 months, no rheumatic recurrences were found in this group. Similar results were obtained in a study of 96 patients who had had rheumatic fever and received the same dosage monthly during a period of 14 months, the rheumatic fever did not recur.

It is another encouraging advance of medical science against an old and crippling enemy—rheumatic fever.

Where Do We Go From Here?

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — When Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor becomes army chief of staff June 30, the situation on the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff will be different in only one major respect.

July 1 marks the start of a new government fiscal year. Department of Defense appropriations and manpower policies for the year will have been set by Congress.

The numer one problem within the Joint Chiefs organization during the past year has been over the making of these policies, in view of the tense world situation.

It was agreed that the Air Force must have the big build-up of men and money. It did not get as much of either as it wanted or could use, but it was left reasonably happy.

Navy was given a slight cutback, Marines a large one—percentagewise — and the Army worst of all. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had the unwelcome final assignment as Army chief of staff to oppose these reductions. It is to his credit that he did this firmly but quietly, without kicking up a major ruckus such as similar policy disputes have caused in the past.

SEN. RICHARD RUSSELL (D.-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is proposing a one year's delay on these reductions. But since the House has approved them, and since they are President Eisenhower's own policies, the prospect of changing them is considered slight.

This being the situation, the assignment which General Taylor faces is to carry out the new policies. He will have to forge the best Army he can out of the available money and manpower. On the latter score, it will apparently be without the big reserve program the President proposed to Congress.

General Taylor is a modest man for an ambitious career West Pointer and a hard-fightin' paratrooper. He has made few speeches and shunned publicity.

But his views on what America's military posture and strategy should be are said to be closely akin to those of General of the Armies Douglas MacArthur and General Ridgway, who preceded him in the Far Eastern command.

General Taylor is convinced that the United States must concentrate its military preparedness for use against the heart and brains and guts of its principal potential enemy. It must not become involved in wrestling with jellyfish in minor wars.

THE CAREERS OF RIDGWAY and Taylor are in many ways parellel. Both commanded airborne divisions. Both served in the Italian and French campaigns in World War 2. At one time Taylor was Ridgway's artillery commander.

General Taylor was deputy Army chief of staff in charge of plans and operations at the Pentagon before he was assigned to command Ridgway's Eighth Army in Korea.

Taylor's return to Washington does not necessarily mean that there will be other changes in the Joint Chiefs of Staff this year, although this was contemplated when the new team was assigned by President Eisenhower in August, 1953.

The original plan was to change the chiefs of staff every two years and rotate the Joint Chief's chairmanship — Army, Navy, Air Force. Gen. Omar Bradley and Adm. Arthur W. Radford having served as chairmen, this would imply Air Force would get the next chairmanship.

GEN. NATHAN F. TWINING, present Air Force chief of staff, has been mentioned frequently as a possible next chairman. Gen. Lauris Norstad, now air deputy commander at NATO, has been considered a likely choice for a future air chief of staff.

The selection of Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther as Army chief of staff has been delayed because of the importance of his European assignment. This might also delay the selection of General Norstad for a Pentagon post.

The name of Adm. Jerauld Wright, now NATO supreme commander in the Atlantic, stands high in speculation on a likely successor to Adm. Robert B. Carney as chief of naval operations.

Return of Gen. J. Lawton Collins from his special post as President Eisenhower's ambassador to Viet Nam means that he will resume his regular assignment as U. S. representative on the NATO standing group of international staff officers in the Pentagon. General Collins was formerly Army chief of staff.

Contrary to some rumors, General Collins was not recalled from Viet Nam because of opposition from the French for his active support of Premier Ngo Dihn Diem. Now that career diplomat George Frederick Reinhardt has been named ambassador to Viet Nam, General Collins is free to take up his more important post.

But the problem of what to do with ex-chiefs of staff too young to retire has not been solved. General Taylor is only 54. He is considered a natural for a top job at NATO some day.

Adenauer's Army Aide Appears Positive Militarism Will Not Be Revived

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Bonn, May 19—How can a return to militarism be prevented in Germany and how can an effective army be built without running the risk of bringing back the influences that led to World War 2?

This is the question of the hour throughout Germany. It is debated widely, for the German people have just been entrusted by their allies in Europe with a task they did not want—namely, the rebuilding of a national army.

To get an understanding of how the German people look at it, this correspondent had a long talk today with Franz Josef Strauss, Minister without portfolio in the Adenauer Cabinet who has been given the assignment of planning the structure of the military force in such a way as to avoid the pitfalls of militarism. Mr. Strauss is one of the younger members of the Cabinet, a progressive, forward-looking man who will be heard from some day in the councils of statesmen in Europe.

To begin with, the Minister impressed upon me that for several years now there has been a campaign of education, conducted by American officials, against militaristic tendencies and this has taken hold. That is why the people didn't want an army. But it is recognized, on the other hand, that Soviet Russia is the common enemy and that Germany is in an exposed position.

"One thing is sure," he said, "Germany will never be a military power on her own again. Theoretically she will belong either to the defense system of the West or to the East, and we are convinced it must be with the West. Our future lies more and more in the direction of a United States of Europe, not necessarily in the sense of a superstate but certainly in a formal federation of some kind."

We talked then about the nature of the debate concerning the building of the new defense force in Germany and of the extreme views of some here who would democratize the army, for example, to the point of where the officers would be on a parity with the privates and discipline would be impossible. He argues that the American army is not composed of soft men but that the discipline is pretty fine, and he believes that it is possible to preserve the principles of democracy and still build a fighting army.

As for the kind of command set-up that would be best, Mr. Strauss is strongly in favor of a separate Army, Air Force and Navy, with a commander for each and a top man to co-ordinate them under civilian control, somewhat as in the American system of a joint chiefs of staff. There are others in the Adenauer Cabinet who lean toward the concept of an overall boss of all the armed services. It is an issue as yet unresolved.

Our talk then turned toward a question that has often been in my mind and which I asked Mr. Strauss: "How did it happen that a nation with as fine a culture as Germany has had, a Germany that produced great poets and writers like Schiller and Goethe and Heine, a people that gave the world some of its greatest scientists and medical men and a nation whom Luther led in a religious crusade could have succumbed to Hitlerism?"

"It is not a simple question to answer," was his reply, "nor is it easy to fix all the responsibility. You had a number of influences working together at the same time. The unwise policies of the allies, who did not know how to turn their victory in World War I into a reconciliation was a circumstance that built up a fanatical nationalism in Germany and gave the demagogues their chance.

"Then, coincidentally, we had selfish industrialists who helped to overthrow the Weimar republic because they thought they could handle Hitler as their tool, though afterwards many of them were killed by him. Finally, we had an unemployment situation that was catastrophic. Everything combined to let Hitler get into office, and then you know what happened.

"Frankly, as I face the future in building up a defense force, I am more afraid of the dangers of militarism that arise from civilians with militaristic minds than I am from generals."

Minister Strauss told me, incidentally, that Germany now has a surplus of generals and that 1,400 who served in World War 2 still remain, though many are over-age. He said forty of the best have been picked for service and the rest have been pensioned.

"What is Russia afraid of?" Mr. Strauss asked, in parting. "A rearmed Germany? Or a rearmed West led by the United States? Russia has nothing to fear from Germany alone, as we will not be in a position again to fight alone on two fronts. So her fear must be of the United States, and that is a baseless fear as we all know."

It was an interview that left an indelible impression of the sincerity so typical of the young men around Adenauer who will lead the coalition when he retires from office.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York (AP)—Reflections of a pavement Plato:

Youth is a dream, but the great dreamers of this world aren't the young. They are the middle-aged.

This is particularly true today, when the generations seem to have reversed their traditional order in the pattern of life.

IN THE PAST it was the young man who was regarded as idealistic, impractical and emotionally immature. The middle-aged man was supposed to be a solid, sober, quiet head of the family, practical in outlook and the real balance wheel of civilization.

He might be in a rut in both a business and social sense, but he enjoyed his rut to a considerable extent. It was at least better than having no rut at all to protect him from the winds of adversity. And he had to remember, after all, he had reached "the age of responsibility."

If this distinction between young and middle-aged men ever had any truth, it seems to have less truth now.

THE YOUNG MAN today is the planner, the schemer, the one who wants to tie all the loose ends of his life in a neat little package. He often isn't trying to avoid a rut; he is looking for a nice soft one he can burrow into and become a settled citizen.

His dreams are all in black and white. He doesn't emerge from college stuffed with a nonsensical dramatic ambition to change the world overnight. He has no yearning to become a martyr in the pursuit of an unattainable goal. His goals are quite practical—a safe and secure job, safe wife, a good car, a sound house in a sound neighborhood.

BASICALLY, the average young man seems ruled by one idea—he wants a sure thing in life. He wants to be middle-aged.

It is the middle-aged man now whose dreams are in technicolor and are played on a wide vision screen. He is the great adolescent of our time. He wants to be young in the way youth used to be young.

The less secure a human being feels the more he turns to his dreams, and the wilder grow his fantasies.

LOOK INSIDE the skull of a middle-aged man (or, to a slightly lesser degree, a middle-aged woman) and you discover a great big confused, overgrown problem child.

Security, which seems a possibility to a young man, is a lost impossible dream to a middle-aged man. He has weathered too many financial depressions and world wars to put complete trust in either the durability of money or peace.

Medicine may eventually slow the ravages of time in others, but he looks in the mirror and sees any such scientific victory will come too late to benefit him much.

THE MIDDLE-AGED man feels he was born a generation too late to share the resignation of the elderly, a generation too soon to share the present hopes and self-confidence of the young.

Whatever became of the smug middle-aged? It isn't a period of smugness anymore. It is the young who are smug, because they know exactly what they want and feel they can get it. It is middle-aged people today who are trying to "live it up," escapes from the prison of reality, who try to do new things they can't and seek to become what they cannot be.

WHETHER IT BE from idealism or foolishness (or both), the middle-aged man, a peculiar victim of history caught without the consolations of the past or the faith of the future, has become the great dream-spinner of the present, a hopeless romantic in a practical present.

The next time you meet a middle-aged man, don't laugh at him. Just pat him on the back and say:

"I understand. Every child wants candy it can't have. Just bear up. When you finally grow up and settle down, everything will look better."

So They Say..

Unfortunately, the history of these conferences (with the Communists) has been that it is always the Free World that gives up territory and surrenders human beings to the control of the Communists. It is never the other way around wherein enslaved people gain their freedom.
—Sen. William Knowland (R.-Calif.).

Q—Where is the widest part of the Atlantic Ocean?

A—At the 4,150 miles between Florida and the Strait of Gibraltar.

Q—What is the newest diving record?

A—Two French naval engineers established a new diving record in 1954. They plunged 13,287 feet into the Atlantic Ocean about 120 miles west of Dakar, French West Africa.

Q—Is the sea lily a plant or an animal?

A—It is actually an animal. The arms sweep the food into its mouth, located at the top of the stem.

About 1 acre in every 10 in the United States has coal under it.

Why We Say--

This name was applied because the fruit of a heavily laden tree with forty or fifty in a cluster resembled bunches of grapes to travelers in Asia (where the fruit first grew). However, grapefruit do not always grow in clusters and the name was wrongly applied from being only a few trees.

"Sir Winston Churchill once said that the rulers of the Soviet Union do not want war, but they want the fruits of war. By this he meant that, without a real intention to risk a mortal clash of arms, they endeavor to gain by bluster, truculence, and threats objectives such as are not normally to be reached by peaceful negotiations, but only by victory on the field of battle. . . ."

But now the truculence and bluster have been displaced by smiles and gentle private letters and proposals for mutual exchanges of visits. We are approaching an era of sweetness and light.

Sometimes small events begin great courses. When William Randolph Hearst, Jr., associated with a name and a press that had long been violently anti-Russian, was tipped off that he could get a visa to enter Soviet Russia, when he and his party got to Moscow and discovered that the red carpet was rolled out for them, it meant something more than was warranted by the visit. The Russians stated a revision of policy through what they believed to be the most antagonistic channel available to them.

And they have continued to pursue the course of a revised policy. Their purpose is to win by honey what they failed to win by prussic acid. And the change of policy may go further than is generally believed because the alternative is war—the most disastrous war in all history. Such a war would defeat the Marxist program of converting the human race to Communism. It would defeat everything because it would destroy everything. There would be no human race to convert.

In a word, it is becoming more obvious, as this revision of policy unfolds, that in Soviet calculations the margins between peace and war are closing and that it is impossible any longer to delay writing a contract for peace because the alternative must be war.

If this estimate of the Russian approach to world problems is correct, we are on the verge of a struggle for survival through peace. By that is meant that while prolonged negotiations continue, neither side need or will make such compromises as could destroy their social and economic systems. Nevertheless, if there is a will to peace, come what may there will be no war—not even an accidental war.

Perhaps the explanation lies in the cold, arithmetical fact that both sides know that neither side can afford forever stockpiling atom and hydrogen bombs which become obsolete with each new experimental explosion. And each side knows that with the first use of the hydrogen bomb, no matter who starts first, the history of our civilization is ended. Karl Marx's structure of periods in the struggle of class against class will only be a memory as the economics of David Ricardo, Adam Smith and John Maynard Keynes will be memories, perhaps to be found 20 centuries from now in the debris of our ancient and forgotten civilization.

All this is pure nihilism and therefore must be rejected by a Marxist as by a humanitarian. These bombs, if we are to believe Thomas E. Murray of the Atomic Energy Commission, do not leave room or time even for the struggle for existence. They are the end. I listened to Murray describe the effects of the bombs; to listen was to enter purgatory.

Therefore the only answer can be peace. And peace it somehow will be. The fact that we have gone through 10 years of approach to war without actually becoming involved in a world-wide devastation, and the further fact that neither side has established its prowess by using whatever bombs were available to it in incidents that might have become wars, cannot go unnoted.

During all this time, however, the "Cold War" bred distrust and hatred and fear. The emergence of Red China, with its fierce demands, complicated the situation as much for Russia as for us. The defeat of Chou En-lai at Bandung must have sobered the Chinese sufficiently to calm the waters about Formosa if nowhere else. At any rate, Quemoy and Matsu were not seized when everyone expected that they would be.

Can one trust this estimate of the situation? I do not know, but this is what it looks like at this moment.

That Body of Yours

RHEUMATIC FEVER

It is unfortunate but true that the person who once has had pneumonia is all the more likely to have it again. This also is the case with rheumatic fever. Consequently, the aim of our research workers and physicians is to try to prevent the occurrence of the first attack of rheumatic fever. With the advent of the modern antibiotic drugs a few years ago (penicillin, sulfa), it became possible to protect the general population from first attacks of rheumatic fever by prompt and effective treatment of streptococci pharyngitis ("strep" sore throat). The best results were obtained when treatment with penicillin was begun within 48 hours of the onset of sore throat.

There are various ways in which penicillin is given. If it is given by mouth, a daily dose of at least 500,000 units must be taken for 10 days. If it is given by injection under the skin or into a vein, daily injections of 300,000 units of procaine penicillin for 10 days is considered effective; or just one injection of a new penicillin compound known as benzathine penicillin, 600,000 to 1,200,000 units, has been found highly effective.

Suppose a person has had one bout of rheumatic fever; how can he be protected against future attacks? Here the drug sulfadiazine has been of great help. Investigations have estimated that it reduces the number of recurrences of rheumatic fever by at least 85 per cent. It is easy to administer, is not too expensive, and has very few side effects. The dose of the drug recommended is 1 gram daily.

However, while sulfadiazine is of great value in preventing new infection, it is a drug which suppresses rather than kills the germs and therefore it was thought desirable to find a drug which would kill the germs causing rheumatic fever. Here again the new drug benzathine penicillin was used in the amount of 1,200,000 units injected every four weeks. This was given to a group of 145 out-patients recently recovered from rheumatic fever. During an observation period of 21 months, no rheumatic recurrences were found in this group. Similar results were obtained in a study of 96 patients who had had rheumatic fever and received the same dosage monthly during a period of 14 months, the rheumatic fever did not recur.

It is another encouraging advance of medical science against an old and crippling enemy — rheumatic fever.

Where Do We Go From Here?

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — When Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor becomes army chief of staff June 30, the situation on the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff will be different in only one major respect.

July 1 marks the start of a new government fiscal year. Department of Defense appropriations and manpower policies for the year will have been set by Congress.

The numer one problem within the Joint Chiefs organization during the past year has been over the making of these policies, in view of the tense world situation.

It was agreed that the Air Force must have the big build-up of men and money. It did not get as much of either as it wanted or could use, but it was left reasonably happy.

Navy was given a slight cutback, Marines a large one—percentagewise — and the Army worst of all. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had the unwelcome final assignment as Army chief of staff to oppose these reductions. It is to his credit that he did this firmly but quietly, without kicking up a major ruckus such as similar policy disputes have caused in the past.

SEN. RICHARD RUSSELL (D.-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is proposing a one year's delay on these reductions. But since the House has approved them, and since they are President Eisenhower's own policies, the prospect of changing them is considered slight.

This being the situation, the assignment which General Taylor faces is to carry out the new policies. He will have to forge the best Army he can out of the available money and manpower. On the latter score, it will apparently be without the big reserve program the President proposed to Congress.

General Taylor is a modest man for an ambitious career West Pointer and a hard-fightin' paratrooper. He has made few speeches and shunned publicity.

But his views on what America's military posture and strategy should be are said to be closely akin to those of General of the Armies Douglas MacArthur and General Ridgway, who preceded him in the Far Eastern command.

General Taylor is convinced that the United States must concentrate its military preparedness for use against the heart and brains and guts of its principal potential enemy. It must not become involved in wrestling with jellyfish in minor wars.

THE CAREERS OF RIDGWAY and Taylor are in many ways parellel. Both commanded airborne divisions. Both served in the Italian and French campaigns in World War 2. At one time Taylor was Ridgway's artillery commander.

General Taylor was deputy Army chief of staff in charge of plans and operations at the Pentagon before he was assigned to command Ridgway's Eighth Army in Korea.

Taylor's return to Washington does not necessarily mean that there will be other changes in the Joint Chiefs of Staff this year, although this was contemplated when the new team was assigned by President Eisenhower in August, 1953.

The original plan was to change the chiefs of staff every two years and rotate the Joint Chief's chairmanship — Army, Navy, Air Force. Gen. Omar Bradley and Adm. Arthur W. Radford having served as chairmen, this would imply Air Force would get the next chairmanship.

GEN. NATHAN F. TWINING, present Air Force chief of staff, has been mentioned frequently as a possible next chairman. Gen. Lauris Norstad, now air deputy commander at NATO, has been considered a likely choice for a future air chief of staff.

The selection of Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther as Army chief of staff has been delayed because of the importance of his European assignment. This might also delay the selection of General Norstad for a Pentagon post.

The name of Adm. Jerauld Wright, now NATO supreme commander in the Atlantic, stands high in speculation on a likely successor to Adm. Robert B. Carney as chief of naval operations.

Return of Gen. J. Lawton Collins from his special post as President Eisenhower's ambassador to Viet Nam means that he will resume his regular assignment as U. S. representative on the NATO standing group of international staff officers in the Pentagon. General Collins was formerly Army chief of staff.

Contrary to some rumors, General Collins was not recalled from Viet Nam because of opposition from the French for his active support of Premier Ngo Dihn Diem. Now that career diplomat George Frederick Reinhardt has been named ambassador to Viet Nam, General Collins is free to take up his more important post.

But the problem of what to do with ex-chiefs of staff too young to retire has not been solved. General Taylor is only 54. He is considered a natural for a top job at NATO some day.

Today in Europe

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Bonn, May 19—How can a return to militarism be prevented in Germany and how can an effective army be built without running the risk of bringing back the influences that led to World War 2?

This is the question of the hour throughout Germany. It is debated widely, for the German people have just been entrusted by their allies in Europe with a task they did not want—namely, the rebuilding of a national army.

To get an understanding of how the German people look at it, this correspondent had a long talk today with Franz Josef Strauss, Minister without portfolio in the Adenauer Cabinet who has been given the assignment of planning the structure of the military force in such a way as to avoid the pitfalls of militarism. Mr. Strauss is one of the younger members of the Cabinet, a progressive, forward-looking man who will be heard from some day in the councils of statesmen in Europe.

To begin with, the Minister impressed upon me that for several years now there has been a campaign of education, conducted by American officials, against militaristic tendencies and this has taken hold. That is why the people didn't want an army. But it is recognized, on the other hand, that Soviet Russia is the common enemy and that Germany is in an exposed position.

"One thing is sure," he said, "Germany will never be a military power on her own again. Theoretically she will belong either to the defense system of the West or to the East, and we are convinced it must be with the West. Our future lies more and more in the direction of a United States of Europe, not necessarily in the sense of a superstate but certainly in a formal federation of some kind."

We talked then about the nature of the debate concerning the building of the new defense force in Germany and of the extreme views of some here who would democratize the army, for example, to the point of where the officers would be on a parity with the privates and discipline would be impossible. He argues that the American army is not composed of soft men but that the discipline is pretty fine, and he believes that it is possible to preserve the principles of democracy and still build a fighting army.

As for the kind of command set-up that would be best, Mr. Strauss is strongly in favor of a separate Army, Air Force and Navy, with a commander for each and a top man to co-ordinate them under civilian control, somewhat as in the American system of a joint chiefs of staff. There are others in the Adenauuer Cabinet who lean toward the concept of an overall boss of all the armed services. It is an issue as yet unresolved.

Our talk then turned toward a question that has often been in my mind and which I asked Mr. Strauss: "How did it happen that a nation with as fine a culture as Germany has had, a Germany that produced great poets and writers like Schiller and Goethe and Heine, a people that gave the world some of its greatest scientists and medical men and a nation whom Luther led in a religious crusade could have succumbed to Hitlerism?"

"It is not a simple question to answer," was his reply, "nor is it easy to fix all the responsibility. You had a number of influences working together at the same time. The unwise policies of the allies, who did not know how to turn their victory in World War I into a reconciliation was a circumstance that built up a fanatical nationalism in Germany and gave the demagogues their chance.

"Then, coincidentally, we had selfish industrialists who helped to overthrow the Weimar republic because they thought they could handle Hitler as their tool, though afterwards many of them were killed by him. Finally, we had an unemployment situation that was catastrophic. Everything combined to let Hitler get into office, and then you know what happened.

"Frankly, as I face the future in building up a defense force, I am more afraid of the dangers of militarism that arise from civilians with militaristic minds than I am from generals."

Minister Strauss told me, incidentally, that Germany now has a surplus of generals and that 1,400 who served in World War 2 still remain, though many are over-age. He said forty of the best have been picked for service and the rest have been pensioned.

"What is Russia afraid of?" Mr. Strauss asked, in parting. "A rearmed Germany? Or a rearmed West led by the United States? Russia has nothing to fear from Germany alone, as we will not be in a position again to fight alone on two fronts. So her fear must be of the United States, and that is a baseless fear as we all know."

It was an interview that left an indelible impression of the sincerity so typical of the young men around Adenauer who will lead the coalition when he retires from office.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York (AP)—Reflections of a pavement Plato:

Youth is a dream, but the great dreamers of this world aren't the young. They are the middle-aged.

This is particularly true today, when the generations seem to have reversed their traditional order in the pattern of life.

IN THE PAST it was the young man who was regarded as idealistic, impractical and emotionally immature. The middle-aged man was supposed to be a solid, sober, quiet head of the family, practical in outlook and the real balance wheel of civilization.

He might be in a rut in both a business and social sense, but he enjoyed his rut to a considerable extent. It was at least better than having no rut at all to protect him from the winds of adversity. And he had to remember, after all, he had reached "the age of responsibility."

If this distinction between young and middle-aged men ever had any truth, it seems to have less truth now.

THE YOUNG MAN today is the planner, the schemer, the one who wants to tie all the loose ends of his life in a neat little package. He often isn't trying to avoid a rut; he is looking for a nice soft one he can burrow into and become a settled citizen.

His dreams are all in black and white. He doesn't emerge from college stuffed with a nonsensical dramatic ambition to change the world overnight. He has no yearning to become a martyr in the pursuit of an unattainable goal. His goals are quite practical—a safe and secure job, safe wife, a good car, a sound house in a sound neighborhood.

BASICALLY, the average young man seems ruled by one idea—he wants a sure thing in life. He wants to be middle-aged.

It is the middle-aged man now whose dreams are in technicolor and are played on a wide vision screen. He is the great adolescent of our time. He wants to be young in the way youth used to be young.

The less secure a human being feels the more he turns to his dreams, and the wilder grow his fantasies.

LOOK INSIDE the skull of a middle-aged man (or, to a slightly lesser degree, a middle-aged woman) and you discover a great big confused, overgrown problem child.

Security, which seems a possibility to a young man, is a lost impossible dream to a middle-aged man. He has weathered too many financial depressions and world wars to put complete trust in either the durability of money or peace.

Medicine may eventually slow the ravages of time in others, but he looks in the mirror and sees any such scientific victory will come too late to benefit him much.

THE MIDDLE-AGED man feels he was born a generation too late to share the resignation of the elderly, a generation too soon to share the present hopes and self-confidence of the young.

Whatever became of the smug middle-aged? It isn't a period of smugness anymore. It is the young who are smug, because they know exactly what they want and feel they can get it. It is middle-aged people today who are trying to "live it up," escapes from the prison of reality, who try to do new things they can't and seek to become what they cannot be.

WHETHER IT BE from idealism or foolishness (or both), the middle-aged man, a peculiar victim of history caught without the consolations of the past or the faith of the future, has become the great dream-spinner of the present, a hopeless romantic in a practical present.

The next time you meet a middle-aged man, don't laugh at him. Just pat him on the back and say:

"I understand. Every child wants candy it can't have. Just bear up. When you finally grow up and settle down, everything will look better."

Seaway Program Canceled as Costly

Ottawa, May 20 (AP)—St. Lawrence Seaway ground-breaking ceremonies, set for next month, were cancelled because of high cost.

A seaway official said yesterday that a Canadian-U. S. committee found the cost would have run to about $150,000. It would have been shared on a 50-50 basis by the U. S. St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. and Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister St. Laurent were to have participated in the event, to take place at Cornwall, Ont., and at Massena, N. Y., in late June. Seaway officials had postponed the ceremonies earlier this month.

The Canadian spokesman said the $150,000 figure "appeared to be rather high, particularly in view of the fact that he would have to have another ceremony when the seaway is completed perhaps at the end of 1958."

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., May 20—The only solution not known for the parking nuisance is for people to stay at home and use the telephone! In fact, the present increase in auto accidents and the lack of parking space will drive people to greater use of the telephone. Otherwise, congestion will so increase that we will travel "bumper to bumper." When one car stops, then all must stop.

EVERY STOREKEEPER should at once install an extra telephone which should be used only for incoming calls. No one in the store, not even the boss, should be allowed to make calls on this extra phone. It should be reserved for "Customers' Calls Only." When customers complain of finding it "busy," then a second such phone should be installed.

Merchants should advertise more and solict telephone orders more. Many customers now dread going downtown to shop on account of the parking problem and the general congestion. Hence, they stay at home and the merchants lose customers. Buying is being constantly postponed. Therefore, in their advertising, merchants should urge people to use the telephone, stating that special phones exist for incoming calls only.

THE PRESENT method of shopping has been the custom for centuries. It has become an instinctive habit which will change only slowly, but the sooner shopkeepers determine to change this habit, the better off all will be. Otherwise, our downtown retail sidewalks may become as deserted on weekdays as they are now on Sundays.

As they have a virtual monoply, the telephone companies seem to be little interested in helping shopkeepers in their present dilemma. This criticism is said to apply especially to the big Bell Companies. These are rich and ruled by self-satisfied bureaucracies. These telephone companies claim that they have not phones enough to take care of all the demands. This is nonsense. If they would be willing to buy more telephone equipment from outside manufacturers and develop more efficient installation crews, all demands could be filled.

MY APPEAL for a greater use of the telephone is not solely to help businessmen keep their customers. The telephone can also help us to keep a life. Hubert L. Kerr has recently stated that while only two persons per 100,000 die from polio, yet, in the same ages, 50 young persons per 100,000 are being killed by automobiles. As these figures become recognized, I forecast that people will visit less by automobile and visit more by telephone.

People will remain home more and travel less. Travel by automobile — except for business — may now be near its peak. Even business calls will be made more by telephone and less by automobile. It takes time to change habits; but the present habit of making both personal and business calls by travel may become a thing of the past. All habits can be changed.

TELEVISION is already taking the place of the movies. When television gets over its "teen-age" period of "sowing wild oats" and gets settled down to decent programs, many more families will prefer TV to going out evenings to a movie. When television is hooked up with the telephone so we can see with whom we talk, then automobiles may be used only in emergencies. In fact, the time is coming when most of the better automobiles will carry telephones. These will be used not only in case of car trouble but also for business and social calls.

In short, I believe that the telephone industry is headed for a great future with tremendous growth ahead. This will come both from an increase in population and from a much-increased use per capita, especially among the younger generation. The telephone can create greater sales, can save more time, and can protect us from unnecessary accidents and other losses. I also believe that telephone securities are among the safest of all securities which give a good income.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

The screwball notions millions of us have about business are really something. For example, soak the corporations, but cut personal taxes $20 a head sounds dandy to a lot of folks.

Mr. Hutton

Take a squint, my friends, at the annual report of a big automobile company. Last year it "paid" $1,035,000,000 in taxes. In addition, it collected excise taxes of $697,000,000 which it also handed over to Government. Total, $1,732,000,000.

Average tax per automobile and truck came to over $400. Does anyone think the company "paid" these taxes? Sorry to say, they do. But every dime was added to the sales price as a cost of business. The only time the customers didn't pay all business taxes is when the business is losing money. The general rule is that corporations collect taxes; their customers pay them. Without the taxes, the cars would sell for $400 less.

Everyone who bought a car paid twenty times the $20 the politicians in Congress beat their bosoms about.

Hurrah for the $20 tax cut, but to heck with the $400 paid by nearly 4,000,000 car buyers!

The enemy of "Labor" is taxes, not profits. Reduce taxes on business, (and everybody else), and prices would come down. Then more people could buy more of everything, — which means more jobs.

Neighbor, please send this to your Congressmen.

There is about a four million seasonal variation in a typical year in the number of U. S. people at work or looking for work.

Peron Followers Demand End Of State Religion

Buenos Aires, Argentina, May 20 (AP)—Argentina's Peron-dominated Chamber of Deputies gave overwhelming approval last night to the president's demand to end Roman catholicism as the state religion.

In the first formal step toward amending the constitution, the Lower House voted 121-12 for the government-backed proposal to eliminate catholicism's favored legal position. The bill calls for election of a national convention to change the nation's basic law.

VICTORY in the lower chamber had been a foregone conclusion. The Peronista party normally controls 149 of the 166 seats. The bill now goes to the Senate—where Peronistas hold all 34 seats—and then to the president for signature.

The deputies' session, climaxing two days of debate on the crucial issue, wound up with boisterous demonstrations both in the chamber and outside.

Deputies pounded their desks and shouted "Peron! Peron!" Outside several hundred Catholic youths paraded toward the Capitol, chorusing "Argentina is Catholic" and "Long live Christ the King" until police dispersed them.

EARLIER in the evening thousands of Catholics packed the Metropolitan Cathedral and 70 other churches in Buenos Aires for evening Masses. Officially they marked observance of the Feast of the Ascension. But the unusual number of evening Masses made apparent the church authorities intended a demonstration of support.

Police stationed heavy concentrations near the principal churches, but the marching youths were the only demonstrators.

Removal from the constitution of references to the church would spell the end of all financial aid to church schools and discontinuance of the small salaries paid from government funds to cardinals, bishops and other churchmen.

Shepherd Turns Cowboy

Mount Clemens, Mich. (AP)—The Rev. Theodore A. Tuenge, will serve as a shipboard cowboy for the Christian Rural Overseas Program of farm aid to Europe. He will take a cargo of 70 heifers to Germany. Tuenge's congregation of 900 gave him a two-month leave for the trip, and his church joined in a statewide drive in support of the heifer project. The herd he cares for will be known as the "Wolverine Shipment."

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., May 20—The only solution not known for the parking nuisance is for people to stay at home and use the telephone! In fact, the present increase in auto accidents and the lack of parking space will drive people to greater use of the telephone. Otherwise, congestion will so increase that we will travel "bumper to bumper." When one car stops, then all must stop.

EVERY STOREKEEPER should at once install an extra telephone which should be used only for incoming calls. No one in the store, not even the boss, should be allowed to make calls on this extra phone. It should be reserved for "Customers' Calls Only." When customers complain of finding it "busy," then a second such phone should be installed.

Merchants should advertise more and solict telephone orders more. Many customers now dread going downtown to shop on account of the parking problem and the general congestion. Hence, they stay at home and the merchants lose customers. Buying is being constantly postponed. Therefore, in their advertising, merchants should urge people to use the telephone, stating that special phones exist for incoming calls only.

THE PRESENT method of shopping has been the custom for centuries. It has become an instinctive habit which will change only slowly, but the sooner shopkeepers determine to change this habit, the better off all will be. Otherwise, our downtown retail sidewalks may become as deserted on weekdays as they are now on Sundays.

As they have a virtual monopoly, the telephone companies seem to be little interested in helping shopkeepers in their present dilemma. This criticism is said to apply especially to the big Bell Companies. These are rich and ruled by self-satisfied bureaucracies. These telephone companies claim that they have not phones enough to take care of all the demands. This is nonsense. If they would be willing to buy more telephone equipment from outside manufacturers and develop more efficient installation crews, all demands could be filled.

MY APPEAL for a greater use of the telephone is not solely to help businessmen keep their customers. The telephone can also help us to keep a life. Hubert L. Kerr has recently stated that while only two persons per 100,000 die from polio, yet, in the same ages, 50 young persons per 100,000 are being killed by automobiles. As these figures become recognized, I forecast that people will visit less by automobile and visit more by telephone.

People will remain home more and travel less. Travel by automobile — except for business — may now be near its peak. Even business calls will be made more by telephone and less by automobile. It takes time to change habits; but the present habit of making both personal and business calls by travel may become a thing of the past. All habits can be changed.

TELEVISION is already taking the place of the movies. When television gets over its "teen-age" period of "sowing wild oats" and gets settled down to decent programs, many more families will prefer TV to going out evenings to a movie. When television is hooked up with the telephone so we can see with whom we talk, then automobiles may be used only in emergencies. In fact, the time is coming when most of the better automobiles will carry telephones. These will be used not only in case of car trouble but also for business and social calls.

In short, I believe that the telephone industry is headed for a great future with tremendous growth ahead. This will come both from an increase in population and from a much-increased use per capita, especially among the younger generation. The telephone can create greater sales, can save more time, and can protect us from unnecessary accidents and other losses. I also believe that telephone securities are among the safest of all securities which give a good income.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

The screwball notions millions of us have about business are really something. For example, soak the corporations, but cut personal taxes $20 a head sounds dandy to a lot of folks.

Mr. Hutton

Take a squint, my friends, at the annual report of a big automobile company. Last year it "paid" $1,035,000,000 in taxes. In addition, it collected excise taxes of $697,000,000 which it also handed over to Government. Total, $1,732,000,000.

Average tax per automobile and truck came to over $400. Does anyone think the company "paid" these taxes? Sorry to say, they do. But every dime was added to the sales price as a cost of business. The only time the customers didn't pay all business taxes is when the business is losing money. The general rule is that corporations collect taxes; their customers pay them. Without the taxes, the cars would sell for $400 less.

Everyone who bought a car paid twenty times the $20 the politicians in Congress beat their bosoms about.

Hurrah for the $20 tax cut, but to heck with the $400 paid by nearly 4,000,000 car buyers!

The enemy of "Labor" is taxes, not profits. Reduce taxes on business, (and everybody else), and prices would come down. Then more people could buy more of everything, — which means more jobs.

Neighbor, please send this to your Congressmen.

There is about a four million seasonal variation in a typical year in the number of U. S. people at work or looking for work.

Peron Followers Demand End Of State Religion

Buenos Aires, Argentina, May 20 (AP)—Argentina's Peron-dominated Chamber of Deputies gave overwhelming approval last night to the president's demand to end Roman catholicism as the state religion.

In the first formal step toward amending the constitution, the Lower House voted 121-12 for the government-backed proposal to eliminate catholicism's favored legal position. The bill calls for election of a national convention to change the nation's basic law.

VICTORY in the lower chamber had been a foregone conclusion. The Peronista party normally controls 149 of the 166 seats. The bill now goes to the Senate—where Peronistas hold all 34 seats—and then to the president for signature.

The deputies' session, climaxing two days of debate on the crucial issue, wound up with boisterous demonstrations both in the chamber and outside.

Deputies pounded their desks and shouted "Peron! Peron!" Outside several hundred Catholic youths paraded toward the Capitol, chorusing "Argentina is Catholic" and "Long live Christ the King" until police dispersed them.

EARLIER in the evening thousands of Catholics packed the Metropolitan Cathedral and 70 other churches in Buenos Aires for evening Masses. Officially they marked observance of the Feast of the Ascension. But the unusual number of evening Masses made apparent the church authorities intended a demonstration of support.

Police stationed heavy concentrations near the principal churches, but the marching youths were the only demonstrators.

Removal from the constitution of references to the church would spell the end of all financial aid to church schools and discontinuance of the small salaries paid from government funds to cardinals, bishops and other churchmen.

Free Lake

Lawrenceburg, Ky. (AP)—The lake on a farm near here probably will be drying up. For years it was believed an underground spring fed the lake. But recently workmen replacing an old water line discovered the lake's true source: A hole had been drilled in the pipe to assure an ample and free supply of water.

ConfusionBlamed For Salk Absence

New York, May 20 (AP)—A city health official partly blames the "confused national situation" for the fact that nearly 29 per cent of New York city children eligible for Salk antipolio shots failed to show up yesterday.

However, City Health Commissioner Dr. Leona Baumgartner termed the turnout "excellent."

The Health Department said inoculations were given to 22,561 first and second grade school children in 141 schools. This was 71.2 per cent of the 31,535 children for whom shots had been requested.

Dr. Morris Greenberg, director of the health department's Bureau of Preventable Diseases, called the turnout "a fairly good figure" and added:

"I THINK THREE factors affected the number of absentees and withdrawals.

"First there is a normal absenteeism of illness in the public schools of 11 per cent, which I am told is even higher in the lower grades.

"Second, today (Thurs.) is a Catholic religious holiday and many Catholic children stayed out of (public and private) school because of that. I am told that 15 to 20 per cent of the children in the 60 schools which reported are Catholic youngsters.

"Third, and certainly an important factor, has been the doubt created by the confused national situation as regards the whole polio vaccination situation."

Valuation Boosted

Albany, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—The state has boosted the valuation of the New York Central Railroad's right of way along Park avenue in New York city. The action opens the way for the city to levy 1½ million in additional taxes against the railroad, which had threatened to abandon Grand Central Terminal if the valuation were raised. The State Board of Equalization and Assessment yesterday set $51,274,699 as the final valuation on the Central's right to operate between Grand Central and 134th street. The old figure was $14,060,804.

Precaution Taken

Hagen, Germany, May 20 (AP)—U. S. Army authorities took steps today to guard American servicemen and their families against typhoid as cases in the British zone to the north rose above 300. American authorities made clear that no typhoid cases have been reported among U. S. troops or their dependents. The outbreak so far was centered in the highly industrialized Ruhr valley.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

The Mature Parent

Stubborn Daughter May Be Trying to Get You to Listen

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Sandra K. is 12. Her mother is worried about the effect of her stubbornness on her younger children.

"If I tell her anything at all, she gets sore," writes Mrs. K. "If I say it's too late to go out with a girl friend, she'll stay in — but get sore. She'll start teasing the younger kids or turn on the TV too loud, just to plague me. She gives me no backtalk but just acts so stubborn and fresh all the time . . . "

Perhaps Sandra holds some unflattering opinion of her mother.

Does this possibility scare Mrs. K.? It shouldn't. Children sometimes do find fault in us, just like a neighbor or other relative. Our daughter may regard us as a nagger, for example. And instead of putting this opinion into accusing words she fears may touch off some awful retaliation she uses the language of accusing action to tell us what she thinks.

The point is, she's forcing us to listen.

So we say: "Sandra, you don't like something in Mother. Instead of turning up the volume on the TV, tell me what it is."

The problem is, can her mother listen to the words?

It's very hard to listen to an accusing child without a good opinion of ourselves. With a poor one, we can't stand it, but get caught in angry impulses to shout "ingratitude," to explain how mistaken he is and attack him back by itemizing all his own sins for him. His poor opinion of us, combining with our own, upsets us so that we have to stop listening—and lose a wonderful illumination.

If we cannot listen quietly to Sandra's accusation of nagging, we may never see that it's nothing but an upside-down way of begging us to be more patient with her.

We may never perceive that her accusing words are really an appeal to restore her trust of us. And that instead of being a hateful person to Sandra, we are in fact one of most precious importance.

Once we know this, nothing can ever be really despairing between us and a child again.

However, I cannot say, "Mrs. K., encourage your daughter to attack you in words." I don't know Mrs. K. Even if I did, I should not say it. For I've no way of knowing how Sandra's poor opinion of her mother might affect her. All I know is, is that human relationships, including those with children, can get terribly snarled up so long as we insist on holding unflattering opinions of ourselves.

It may be just such an opinion of herself that's Mrs. K.'s problem.

Harriman Charged With Discrimination

Albany, May 20 (AP)—L. Judson Morhouse, Republican state chairman, claimed today that Gov. Harriman was promoting "divisive political discrimination" between New York city and the rest of the state for "personal political advance."

Morhouse, in a statement, accused the Democratic governor of using a "variation of the old left-wing technique of setting group against group and declared:

"He has been working overtime to set the 8 million people of New York city against the 7 million people of the other 57 counties of our state. He is indulging, with cold calculation, in divisive political discrimination for personal political advantage."

Stiff Penalty Due For Dope Pushers

Hartford, Conn., May 20 (AP)—Connecticut's Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill designed to clamp a stranglehold on dope pushers. It calls for penalties as stiff as mandatory life imprisonment.

The Senate vote yesterday was quick and unanimous after some legislators expressed confidence a new, stiffer law would curb narcotics peddlers as well as keep possible offenders from coming into Connecticut.

For the sale of narcotics to minors, the bill calls for:

1. First offenders — minimum penalty of 20 years.

2. Second offense — life imprisonment.

Under the present law, sale of narcotics to minors calls for a minimum of 15 years for first and all subsequent offenses.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury May 17, 1955: Balance, $6,080,304,166.28; deposits fiscal year July 1, $54,164,808,712.04; withdrawals fiscal year, $60,518,448,344.56; total debt, $277,287,518,309.05x; gold assets, $21,672,529,644.57; x—includes $505,940,796.80 debt not subject to statutory limit.

To Expose Graft In High Positions

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D.-Ark.) said today his Senate investigations subcommittee intends to expose the higher-ups in "a nest of small grafters" he contends has fattened on contracts with the armed forces.

He said in an interview he sees no evidence that corruption in big scale buying of uniform equipment has reached very high in the procurement services. But he said further evidence will show it has reached levels higher than those shown in two days of testimony this week.

The subcommittee's public hearings recessed yesterday until Tuesday after a former chief inspector for the army admitted that he had lied under oath.

The witness, Joseph G. Porreca of Clifton, N. J., testified he had received a home freezer, meat to stock it, and some lingerie for Mrs. Porreca in 1952 from Marvin Rubin, a key figure in the inquiry.

Rubin was a business finder—Sen. Bender (R.-Ohio) called him a "fixer"—for some firms whose products for the armed services were inspected by Porreca's subordinates.

Porreca admitted he had lied in prior sworn denials to the subcommittee that he had accepted any of those things from Rubin. He still insisted they were not gifts, but he said he never paid for any of them.

Only Speed Counts

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Russell Graham, 43, appeared in Municipal Court on a speeding charge and presented an instrument survey taken on his auto's speedometer to Traffic Judge Philip Bagley. It showed that at 36 miles an hour his speedometer registered only 27. "I'd hate to think of all the people who would get out of paying fines if we recognized faulty speedometers," said the judge in fining Graham $14.

Neighbor Saves Family From Fire

New York, May 20 (AP)—Prompt action by a woman neighbor who heard children crying and then smelled smoke early today saved another woman and her three small children from a fire in their fourth-floor Washington Heights apartment.

The neighbor, Ann Daniels, who lives on the fifth floor of the building at 1334 Riverside Drive, began rapping on apartment doors and notified the superintendent.

THE SUPERINTENDENT, Walter Bottcher; and his son-in-law, Malcolm Cummings, sped up the fire escape to the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. George Grimley. Cummings and Bottcher carried to safety the two older children, Kevin, 7, and Eileen 6. They were unharmed.

Meanwhile firemen burst into the four-room smoke-filled flat and rescued John, 2, and his mother, Theresa, 30. Both had been overcome by the fumes.

The father was not home at the time.

The mother and son were taken to a hospital, where they were pronounced in "good" condition. The cause of the blaze was not immediatedy determined.

Custody of Child Settled Out of Court

New York, May 20 (AP)—An out-of-court settlement has been reached between John Jacob Astor and his second wife, Gertrude Gretsch Astor, over custody of their 6-year-old daughter, Mary Jacqueline.

The Astors were married in September, 1944. She is suing for a separation and for a judgment declaring a Mexican divorce Astor obtained in June, 1954, is invalid. He has filed a countersuit.

Mrs. Astor won custody of the girl last December, along with temporary alimony of $2,500 and $1,000 a month for the child. The amount for the child later was reduced to $500.

In supreme Court yesterday, counsel for both sides agreed on "satisfactory" visiting rights for the father. Terms were not disclosed.

An intelligent woman is one who has the roast beef cooked when the men return from a fishing trip.

Truckers Lockout

Los Angeles, May 20 (AP)—Trucking companies struck back at an AFL Teamsters Union strike by invoking a lockout today that started halting major trucking operations in California. The shutdown is expected to spread through 11 western states. The California Trucking Assn. ordered its hundreds of member firms to stop operations last midnight. Virtually every trucking firm in California that has a contract with the AFL Teamsters Union was under orders to halt all but essential trips.

Probing Report

Scranton, Pa., May 20 (AP)—Fire officials of nearby Spring Township are investigating a report that an unidentified woman refused to surrender an eight party telephone line to permit the reporting of a small fire. Fire Chief Carl Hagen said the woman's refusal contributed to the destruction of a truck owned by Stephen Yuhas of Duryea.

In the Matter of the Application of HALCYON PARK HOUSING DEVELOPMENT

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to Section 523, Article XI of the Conservation Law, the Water Power and Control Commission will meet in the Stone House on the site of the Halcyon Housing Development in the town of Ulster on the 26th day of May, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day for the purpose of hearing all persons, waterworks corporations, municipal corporations or other civil divisions of the State of New York that may be affected by the execution of the plans of Halcyon Park Housing Development for the acquisition of a water supply for its real estate subdivision in the town of Ulster by the installation and development of a new well and of the construction in connection therewith, plans for which have been filed with the Water Power and Control Commission, at its Office in Albany, New York, where the same are open for public inspection; and for the purpose of determining whether said plans are justified by public necessity, whether they provide for the proper and safe construction of all work connected therewith, whether they provide for the proper protection of the supply and watershed from contamination or provide for the proper filtration of such additional supply, whether they are just and equitable to the other municipalities and civil divisions of the State of New York and to the inhabitants thereof affected thereby, and whether they make fair and equitable provisions for the determination and payment of any and all legal damages to persons and property, both direct and indirect, which will result from the execution thereof.

All persons, waterworks corporations, municipal corporations, or other civil divisions of the State of New York, who have objections to the execution of said plans, in order to be heard thereon, must file such objections thereto in writing and in duplicate in the office of the Water Power and Control Commission in the city of Albany, N. Y., on or before the 25th day of May, 1955. Every objection so filed must particularly specify the grounds thereof.

No persons, waterworks or municipal corporation or local authority can be heard in opposition thereto except on objection so filed.

Dated, Albany, New York, May 9, 1955.

ConfusionBlamed For Salk Absence

New York, May 20 (AP)—A city health official partly blames the "confused national situation" for the fact that nearly 29 per cent of New York city children eligible for Salk antipolio shots failed to show up yesterday.

However, City Health Commissioner Dr. Leona Baumgartner termed the turnout "excellent."

The Health Department said inoculations were given to 22,561 first and second grade school children in 141 schools. This was 71.2 per cent of the 31,535 children for whom shots had been requested.

Dr. Morris Greenberg, director of the health department's Bureau of Preventable Diseases, called the turnout "a fairly good figure" and added:

"I THINK THREE factors affected the number of absentees and withdrawals.

"First there is a normal absenteeism of illness in the public schools of 11 per cent, which I am told is even higher in the lower grades.

"Second, today (Thurs.) is a Catholic religious holiday and many Catholic children stayed out of (public and private) school because of that. I am told that 15 to 20 per cent of the children in the 60 schools which reported are Catholic youngsters.

"Third, and certainly an important factor, has been the doubt created by the confused national situation as regards the whole polio vaccination situation."

Valuation Boosted

Albany, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—The state has boosted the valuation of the New York Central Railroad's right of way along Park avenue in New York city. The action opens the way for the city to levy 1½ million in additional taxes against the railroad, which had threatened to abandon Grand Central Terminal if the valuation were raised. The State Board of Equalization and Assessment yesterday set $51,274,699 as the final valuation on the Central's right to operate between Grand Central and 134th street. The old figure was $14,060,804.

Precaution Taken

Hagen, Germany, May 20 (AP)—U. S. Army authorities took steps today to guard American servicemen and their families against typhoid as cases in the British zone to the north rose above 300. American authorities made clear that no typhoid cases have been reported among U. S. troops or their dependents. The outbreak so far was centered in the highly industrialized Ruhr valley.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Sandra K. is 12. Her mother is worried about the effect of her stubbornness on her younger children.

"If I tell her anything at all, she gets sore," writes Mrs. K. "If I say it's too late to go out with a girl friend, she'll stay in — but get sore. She'll start teasing the younger kids or turn on the TV too loud, just to plague me. She gives me no backtalk but just acts so stubborn and fresh all the time . . . "

Perhaps Sandra holds some unflattering opinion of her mother.

Does this possibility scare Mrs. K.? It shouldn't. Children sometimes do find fault in us, just like a neighbor or other relative. Our daughter may regard us as a nagger, for example. And instead of putting this opinion into accusing words she fears may touch off some awful retaliation she uses the language of accusing action to tell us what she thinks.

The point is, she's forcing us to listen.

So we say: "Sandra, you don't like something in Mother. Instead of turning up the volume on the TV, tell me what it is."

The problem is, can her mother listen to the words?

It's very hard to listen to an accusing child without a good opinion of ourselves. With a poor one, we can't stand it, but get caught in angry impulses to shout "ingratitude," to explain how mistaken he is and attack him back by itemizing all his own sins for him. His poor opinion of us, combining with our own, upsets us so that we have to stop listening—and lose a wonderful illumination.

If we cannot listen quietly to Sandra's accusation of nagging, we may never see that it's nothing but an upside-down way of begging us to be more patient with her.

We may never perceive that her accusing words are really an appeal to restore her trust of us. And that instead of being a hateful person to Sandra, we are in fact one of most precious importance.

Once we know this, nothing can ever be really despairing between us and a child again.

However, I cannot say, "Mrs. K., encourage your daughter to attack you in words." I don't know Mrs. K. Even if I did, I should not say it. For I've no way of knowing how Sandra's poor opinion of her mother might affect her. All I know is, is that human relationships, including those with children, can get terribly snarled up so long as we insist on holding unflattering opinions of ourselves.

It may be just such an opinion of herself that's Mrs. K.'s problem.

Harriman Charged With Discrimination

Albany, May 20 (AP)—L. Judson Morhouse, Republican state chairman, claimed today that Gov. Harriman was promoting "divisive political discrimination" between New York city and the rest of the state for "personal political advance."

Morhouse, in a statement, accused the Democratic governor of using a "variation of the old left-wing technique of setting group against group and declared:

"He has been working overtime to set the 8 million people of New York city against the 7 million people of the other 57 counties of our state. He is indulging, with cold calculation, in divisive political discrimination for personal political advantage."

Stiff Penalty Due For Dope Pushers

Hartford, Conn., May 20 (AP)—Connecticut's Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill designed to clamp a stranglehold on dope pushers. It calls for penalties as stiff as mandatory life imprisonment.

The Senate vote yesterday was quick and unanimous after some legislators expressed confidence a new, stiffer law would curb narcotics peddlers as well as keep possible offenders from coming into Connecticut.

For the sale of narcotics to minors, the bill calls for:

1. First offenders — minimum penalty of 20 years.
2. Second offense — life imprisonment.

Under the present law, sale of narcotics to minors calls for a minimum of 15 years for first and all subsequent offenses.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury May 17, 1955: Balance, $6,080,304,166.28; deposits fiscal year July 1, $54,164,808,712.04; withdrawals fiscal year, $60,518,448,344.56; total debt, $277,287,518,309.05x; gold assets, $21,672,529,644.57; x—includes $505,940,796.80 debt not subject to statutory limit.

To Expose Graft In High Positions

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D.-Ark.) said today his Senate investigations subcommittee intends to expose the higher-ups in "a nest of small grafters" he contends has fattened on contracts with the armed forces.

He said in an interview he sees no evidence that corruption in big scale buying of uniform equipment has reached very high in the procurement services. But he said further evidence will show it has reached levels higher than those shown in two days of testimony this week.

The subcommittee's public hearings recessed yesterday until Tuesday after a former chief inspector for the army admitted that he had lied under oath.

The witness, Joseph G. Porreca of Clifton, N. J., testified he had received a home freezer, meat to stock it, and some lingerie for Mrs. Porreca in 1952 from Marvin Rubin, a key figure in the inquiry.

Rubin was a business finder—Sen. Bender (R.-Ohio) called him a "fixer"—for some firms whose products for the armed services were inspected by Porreca's subordinates.

Porreca admitted he had lied in prior sworn denials to the subcommittee that he had accepted any of those things from Rubin. He still insisted they were not gifts, but he said he never paid for any of them.

Only Speed Counts

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Russell Graham, 43, appeared in Municipal Court on a speeding charge and presented an instrument survey taken on his auto's speedometer to Traffic Judge Philip Bagley. It showed that at 36 miles an hour his speedometer registered only 27. "I'd hate to think of all the people who would get out of paying fines if we recognized faulty speedometers," said the judge in fining Graham $14.

Neighbor Saves Family From Fire

New York, May 20 (AP)—Prompt action by a woman neighbor who heard children crying and then smelled smoke early today saved another woman and her three small children from a fire in their fourth-floor Washington Heights apartment.

The neighbor, Ann Daniels, who lives on the fifth floor of the building at 1334 Riverside Drive, began rapping on apartment doors and notified the superintendent.

THE SUPERINTENDENT, Walter Bottcher, and his son-in-law, Malcolm Cummings, sped up the fire escape to the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. George Grimley. Cummings and Bottcher carried to safety the two older children, Kevin, 7, and Eileen 6. They were unharmed.

Meanwhile firemen burst into the four-room smoke-filled flat and rescued John, 2, and his mother, Theresa, 30. Both had been overcome by the fumes.

The father was not home at the time.

The mother and son were taken to a hospital, where they were pronounced in "good" condition. The cause of the blaze was not immediatedy determined.

Custody of Child Settled Out of Court

New York, May 20 (AP)—An out-of-court settlement has been reached between John Jacob Astor and his second wife, Gertrude Gretsch Astor, over custody of their 6-year-old daughter, Mary Jacqueline.

The Astors were married in September, 1944. She is suing for a separation and for a judgment declaring a Mexican divorce Astor obtained in June, 1954, is invalid. He has filed a countersuit.

Mrs. Astor won custody of the girl last December, along with temporary alimony of $2,500 and $1,000 a month for the child. The amount for the child later was reduced to $500.

In supreme Court yesterday, counsel for both sides agreed on "satisfactory" visiting rights for the father. Terms were not disclosed.

Truckers Lockout

Los Angeles, May 20 (AP)—Trucking companies struck back at an AFL Teamsters Union strike by invoking a lockout today that started halting major trucking operations in California. The shutdown is expected to spread through 11 western states. The California Trucking Assn. ordered its hundreds of member firms to stop operations last midnight. Virtually every trucking firm in California that has a contract with the AFL Teamsters Union was under orders to halt all but essential trips.

Probing Report

Scranton, Pa., May 20 (AP)—Fire officials of nearby Spring Township are investigating a report that an unidentified woman refused to surrender an eight party telephone line to permit the reporting of a small fire. Fire Chief Carl Hagen said the woman's refusal contributed to the destruction of a truck owned by Stephen Yuhas of Duryea.

Faces Four Charges After Traffic Accident

New York, May 20 (AP)—Cecil J. Palm Jr., of 30 Langdon St., Elmont, N. Y., was arraigned yesterday in two courts in the Bronx and released in $1,000 bail on four charges—all growing out of a traffic accident Wednesday night.

The 20-year-old house painter was arrested after he allegedly threatened a second motorist on the Major Deegan Highway near 139th street.

David Klein, of 3400 Tryon avenue, the Bronx, driver of the other car, accused Palm of pulling a 12-guage shotgun during a discussion of an accident on the highway.

Arraigned before Magistrate Hyman Korn, the Elmont man was released in $500 bail on a felonious assault charge and paroled on a Sullivan Law violation charge for an appearance in Bronx Magistrate's court May 24.

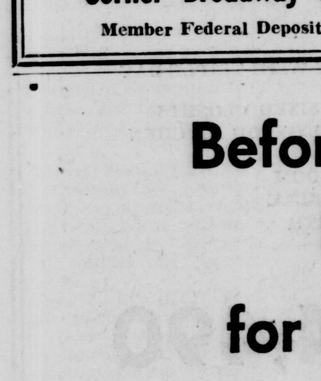

Later in Bronx traffic court in the same building, Magistrate Samuel J. Ohringer held Palm in $500 bail for allegedly leaving the scene of an accident and paroled on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Palm also re-appears in traffc court May 24.

Prolonged Illness Primary Problem

Albany, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—"Prolonged illness is today's primary medical, public health and hospital problem," a state study group reports.

The joint hospital survey and planning commission said at its annual meeting yesterday that hospitals should devote more time and facilities to "rehabilitation" of the chronically ill.

The commission said that better treatment of childhood diseases had increased the proportion of the population over 45 years old.

"IT IS THESE adults, among whom chronic illness is the most prevalent, who are creating the demand for prompt diagnosis, skilled treatment, hospitalization and effective rehabilitation," the commission declared.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner and chairman of the commission, appointed three part-time consultants to help the commission and localities carry out provisions of the Hill-Burton program of federal aid.

He named Dr. George C. Deaver of the New York University-Bellevue Medical Center; Dr. Martin Cherkaksy, director of Montefiore Hospital in New York city, and Miss Ollie A. Randall of the Community Service Society of New York.

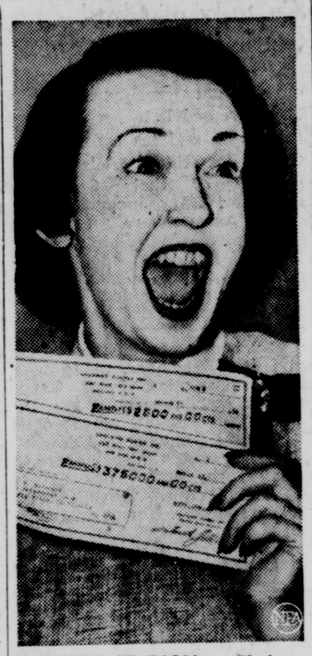

WHILE PERFORMING commission wark, they will be paid $50 a day, up to $1,000 a year.

Dr. John J. Bourke, executive director of the commission, reported that the agency had approved federal grants totaling $29,197,000 between July 1, 1947, and March 31, 1955. The funds went into construction projects costing $109,350,000.

As to prolonged illness, the commission urged general hospitals to "become more aware of the potentialities of their services in the prompt and adequate medical care and rehabilitation of the chronically ill."

THE GROUP recommended that all hospitals "foster the concept and goals of rehabilitation to the maximum capacity of their staff and facilities.

The report, prepared by Bourke, was the joint product of the seven regional hospital planning councils within the commission. The regions are: Buffalo, Long Island, Syracuse, Rochester, greater New York, and northern metropolitan (New York).

He's Not in Trouble, Just Taking Nap

Hamilton, Ont., March 20 (AP)—Pilot William Marsh of the Peninsula Air Rescue Service spotted a farmer crumpled beneath his tractor and swooped low to investigate.

On closer view, Marsh saw a red blob on the man's head and quickly landed his Piper cub in an adjoining field.

When Marsh arrived at the tractor, the farmer sat up and said he didn't want to be rescused, but he would like a little quiet so he could continue his nap.

The red blob? A bandana to ward off the sun.

Scout Council Is Cited for Record

The Rip VanWinkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, received national recognition today at the 45th annual meeting of the National Council in session in St. Louis, Mo.

Cited as one of the 24 leading councils in the entire United States, the local Council, headed by President Raymond S. Quackenbush of Saugerties and Scout Executive George V. Dennis, received the nationwide recognition for its "splendid record in advancing rural Scouting during 1954."

THE CITATIONS which included the Rip VanWinkle Council were presented at the St. Louis conclave to the 24 leading councils for doing outstanding work among the 539 councils in extending Scouting out along rural routes last year. There are 25,473 units with more than 593,792 rural boys enrolled at the present time. Thousands of other farm boys are members of Scout units meeting in urban communities.

Text of the citation awarded the local council was:

"The National Committee on Rural Service, Boy Scouts of America, applauds with sincere recognition your council's splendid record in advancing rural Scouting during 1954. We heartily congratulate you, your Scout Executive, and your Council. Your achievement, based upon net gain in rural units per staff man together with an outstanding overall program for Scouting in rural areas, has placed you in the top 24 councils of the nation. Through this accomplishment you have made a vital contribution to rural boys and to rural America where more than 44 per cent of the nation's boyhood lives. We commend you and salute you."

Big Price War Looms Among Coffee Producing Nations

Dispute Concerns Supply, Prices And Competition

Meeting Is Arranged To Launch Agency

New York, May 20 (AP)—Coffee drinkers may be in for another break.

The coffee producing nations to the south have been waging a cold war among themselves on the hot subject. Over supply, stiff competition and unstable prices for the beans threaten today to break into on open price war—in spite of denials from the feuding nations.

THE PRICE of coffee for future delivery dropped early this week on the New York market as traders received word that attempts of the producing nations to set up a price controlling agency were running into snags.

Another attempt will be made here next week. Spokesmen for the coffee traders say that 16 producing countries will be represented. Aim: To launch an international coffee agency with power to stabilize prices.

But Brazil, with a large supply of unsold beans on hand, has just dropped its minimum coffee price. The Brazilian government says this doesn't mean the start of a price war. But traders here note that El Salvador and Mexico are reported to have taken similar action.

THE IMMEDIATE DISPUTE among the Latin American nations is over what to do about some 10 million bags of coffee which will be left over from the old crop when the new crop year starts July 1.

The Brazilian government has bought 3,100,000 bags (409,000,000 pounds) to hold off the market. The quarrel is said to be over how much it should buy, and how much other producing countries should hold off the market until prices stablize.

However the trouble actually goes back to July of 1953 when Brazil had a damaging frost. Prospects of a short coffee crop sent prices spiralling upward. The green bean finally went to 95 cents a pound in the New York market—and the roasted product went much higher that that in the grocery.

AMERICANS—biggest buyers of the Latin American product—began to cut back on consumption because of the high price. At the same time other producers began to cut in on the market Brazil had built up over the years.

Declining demand and price cutting among competing producers toppled prices here—the green bean brings about 54 cents a pound here now—and caused considerable economic and political unrest in Latin America.

For several months now the producing nations have been trying to get together on a scheme to stabilize prices by tailoring supplies to demand and also on promotion programs to increase the drinking of coffee.

Mexico and central American producers through their agency, the Federation of Central American and Mexican Coffee Growers, have been negotiating with Brazil and Colombia along these lines.

NEW YORK TRADERS have received reports from Rio de Janeiro that negotiations have hit a snag over which country or countries should buy up more of that 10 million bag carryover.

This comes on top of considerable bad feeling among the producers over previous price cutting as they angled for the big American market which Brazil seemed to be in danger of losing because prices had soared so high.

Whether the countries can patch their differences and keep coffee prices about where they are, or whether an open price war will result is any one's guess.

One thing's sure—millions of coffee drinkers in the United States will be watching with interest.

Learning to Live With the A-Bomb

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Indian Springs Air Force Base, Nev. (NEA)—The Air Force is fast learning how to live with atomic weapons.

And a significant part of this knowledge comes from a wax-coated pill about half an inch in diameter which Col. Ernest A. Pinson and Capt. Charles S. Oldfield swallow for each atomic explosion.

Actually, they only half-swallow it for a few hours, because there's a thread which suspends it in the exact ceenter of their stomachs. The end of the thread hangs from their mouths and when the test is over they haul the pill out.

To Pinson and Oldfield, the business of removing the pill is the real hazard of their work.

The fact that they also fly through the fiery cauldron of an atomic cloud a few minutes after detonation — a feat previously considered suicidal — doesn't bother them at all.

"THE FIRST TIME I took the pill it was easy," says Oldfield, "but each swallow and pull-out since has become more difficult and if there's any courage connected with our work, this is where it's needed."

In the excitement of flying through a cloud once, Pinson chomped through his thread, delaying the results of the test for two days.

Inside the pill are tiny sheets of photo-sensitive paper which reveal the exact dose of radiation received. Among other things, an analysis of the paper in the pill after a test tells exactly how much radiation has penetrated the body.

The full scope of this work, directed by Col. Pinson, is to come up with some answers on such problems as how mechanics can work on contaminated planes, how dangerous it is to pilots to fly through atomic clouds, and how much radiation is collected on the surface of planes.

Before this series of atomic tests a plane with human passengers was permitted to enter an atomic cloud not earlier than an hour after detonation. Pinson and Oldfield have been doing it in less than 15 minutes.

The results received on the first dozen shots of this series, tagged "Operation Teapot," are secret. But the fact that the two fliers haven't been grounded indicates that their work has proven less dangerous than previously expected.

Pinson and Oldfield have actually been passengers in two-seater T-33 jet trainers. The pilots who have flown them are Lt. Dalton W. McCullar of Courtland, Miss., Lt. John M. Rowan of Kaw, Okla., and Lt. Floyd H. Patterson, Jr., of Beaumont, Tex. They do not take pills but wear film strips on their T-shirts.

The routine of a test goes something like this:

This field, where most of the Air Force support of the atomic tests is based, is only about 50 air miles from the point of bomb detonation. Thus the fliers in this phase of the tests only have to get up three and one-half hours before shot time.

Before take-off, Pinson and Oldfield double-check the array of radiation-detection instruments scattered all over the plane. Some involve the film exposure technique. Some are electronic.

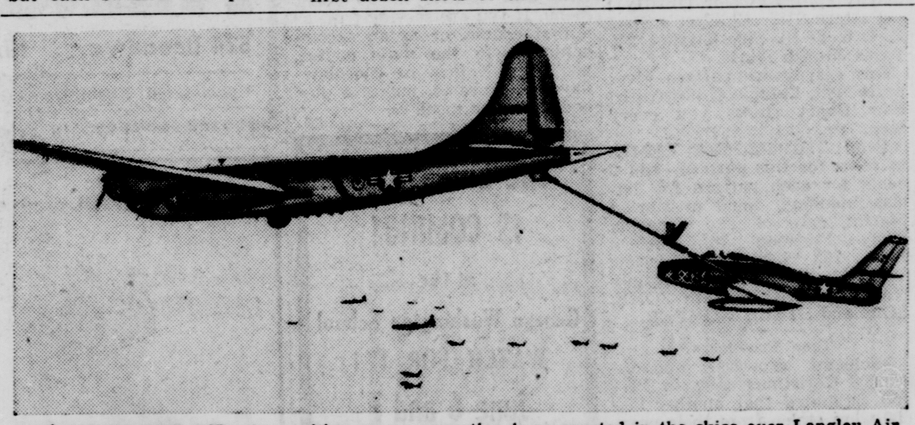

PILLS ARE SWALLOWED and weather checked about half an hour before take-off. The The planes circle clockwise while waiting for the blast and have a fixed point in space which they must occupy when the bomb goes off.

Within 15 minutes after detonation the darkest part of the boiling cloud is selected as the point of penetration and one after another the T-33s dive into it. In a few seconds the planes are through the cloud and about 20 minutes later they are on the ground.

PASSENGERS AND PILOTS are lifted out by a crane arrangement so they don't touch the "hot" sides of the planes. They're measured for radiation and if they've had too much they must destroy their clothing and take a shower. They've had to take a shower once.

Then they take their pills out of their stomachs, collect data from the other instruments, and the data analysis begins.

"That's about all there is to it," Oldfield says, as though describing a simple high school chemistry experiment.

RESCUE IN MID-AIR—An exciting rescue operation is re-enacted in the skies over Langley Air Force Base, Va. Two KB-29 tankers, each with an engine gone and in danger of losing their propellers, feared a crash-landing because of loads of jet fuel they were carrying. So a squadron of Thunderstreak jets came to the rescue, drawing fuel from the tankers. After refueling, the jets would dive to sea level, where fuel consumption is highest, burn out their loads, and return for more. The "flying gas stations" landed safely.

Illinois Girl Is Champ Speller

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Sandra (Sandy) Sloss, 13, of Granite City, Ill., is the new National Spelling Bee champion.

Sandra, an eighth grader at St. Joseph's school, won over 61 other crack spellers yesterday in one of the most toughly contested of the 28 national spelling bees sponsored by Scripps-Howard newspapers and other papers.

It took 541 words—116 more than last year—before Sandra finally won over the runnerup, Jean Copeland, 12, of Prescott, Ariz.

AFTER SUCCESSFULLY spelling many a tongue-twister, Jean finally stumbled the comparatively short but unfamiliar word, "abbacy" which means a place where an Abbot lives. She spelled it "abbosy."

Sandra spelled it correctly and then clinched her victory by managing "crustaceology," which means the study of shellfish.

The new champion, a tall, blue eyed girl who likes art, dancing and sports, received first prize of $500, a trophy cup and a free trip to New York. Jean, a second place winner, received $300.

Naomi Klein, 12, Brooklyn, took third place in a contest which found the girls ahead of the boys all the way. Thirty-seven girls compared to 25 boys won their way to the tournament and the last of the boys, William Kelley, 12, of Kennett, Mo., was spelled down in the 15th round.

Big Price War Looms Among Coffee Producing Nations

Meeting Is Arranged To Launch Agency

New York, May 20 (AP)—Coffee drinkers may be in for another break.

The coffee producing nations to the south have been waging a cold war among themselves on the hot subject. Over supply, stiff competition and unstable prices for the beans threaten today to break into on open price war—in spite of denials from the feuding nations.

THE PRICE of coffee for future delivery dropped early this week on the New York market as traders received word that attempts of the producing nations to set up a price controlling agency were running into snags.

Another attempt will be made here next week. Spokesmen for the coffee traders say that 16 producing countries will be represented. Aim: To launch an international coffee agency with power to stabilize prices.

But Brazil, with a large supply of unsold beans on hand, has just dropped its minimum coffee price. The Brazilian government says this doesn't mean the start of a price war. But traders here note that El Salvador and Mexico are reported to have taken similar action.

THE IMMEDIATE DISPUTE among the Latin American nations is over what to do about some 10 million bags of coffee which will be left over from the old crop when the new crop year starts July 1.

The Brazilian government has bought 3,100,000 bags (409,000,000 pounds) to hold off the market. The quarrel is said to be over how much it should buy, and how much other producing countries should hold off the market until prices stablize.

However the trouble actually goes back to July of 1953 when Brazil had a damaging frost. Prospects of a short coffee crop sent prices spiralling upward. The green bean finally went to 95 cents a pound in the New York market—and the roasted product went much higher that that in the grocery.

AMERICANS—biggest buyers of the Latin American product—began to cut back on consumption because of the high price. At the same time other producers began to cut in on the market Brazil had built up over the years.

Declining demand and price cutting among competing producers toppled prices here—the green bean brings about 54 cents a pound here now—and caused considerable economic and political unrest in Latin America.

Meeting for Audio Visual Planning At Teachers College

The State University Teachers College at New Paltz will be host at a meeting of school officials Thursday, May 26, to discuss the planning of schools for the use of audio-visual materials. The group will meet at 2 p. m. in the college library.

Donald P. Ely, director of audio-visual education at the College, will be chairman of the discussion group. The purpose of the meeting, Ely explained, is to bring together some experts in the field of school planning to discuss the problems of making plans, in the building of new schools, for more effective use of audio-visual materials.

"With so many new school buildings being planned and constructed in the Mid-Hudson valley," Ely pointed out, "the Audio-Visual committee of the Mid-Hudson Study Council feels that it is necessary to have this discussion meeting."

Questions which have been submitted by school administrators and audio-visual directors will be the focal point of the meeting. Consideration will be given to the needs of the present buildings, but emphasis will be placed on the proper planning of new school buildings. Slides and a film strip will be shown.

The meeting is open to all school officials and other interested persons, especially those who are in the process of planning new school buildings.

Miss Barbara Herzog, Gerard Scharschu United in Marriage

St. Colman's Church was the scene Thursday, May 19, at 6:30 p. m., of the wedding of Miss Barbara A. Herzog and Gerard J. Scharschu. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edmond V. Radford, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fred Herzog, Flatbush road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Scharschu, 15 Stickles avenue.

Given in marriage by her brother, Donald A. Herzog, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white organdy over taffeta and net, trimmed with eyelet lace and a shoulder-length nylon veil caught to a tulle crown of lilies of the valley. She carried a Colonial bouquet of shattered white carnations.

The maid of honor, Rita M. Herzog, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina length gown with an orchid dotted Swiss net over taffeta, trimmed with eyelet lace, matching head-piece and carried a Colonial bouquet of shattered pink carnations.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and palms. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

Richard I. Deyo, 5 Joy's Lane, was best man. The ushers were Joseph F. Fiore, brother-in-law of the bride and Francis J. McCullough, both of East Kingston.

Martin Kelly, accompanied by Teodore Riccobono, sang "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and other selections.

On her wedding trip to northern New York state, the bride wore a lavender dress with matching accessories, white faille coat, patent leather shoes, and pink carnation corsage. Upon their return, they will make their home in East Kingston.

The bride attended Kingston High School and is employed by the Stone Manufacturing Company, East Kingston.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed by Alfred Research Laboratory, East Kingston.

Legion Women Hold Drive for Sale of Magazines in County

Kingston Unit No. 150, American Legion Auxiliary, is conducting a magazine subscription drive in Ulster county, the proceeds of which will be used in buying more hospital equipment, which is available for home use throughout the county.

A duly certified representative with credentials signed by Mrs. Betty Sanford, chairman of hospital equipment and Mrs. Jeanne Bittner, president, will be visiting homes in the county shortly. All help and cooperation will be appreciated.

Holland Society Holds Meeting

Members of the Holland Society of New York, Ulster county branch, held their annual dinner-meeting at the Hotel Stuyvesant Saturday, May 14.

The nomination committee, consisting of Dr. Virgil B. DeWitt, Charles E. Deyo and Jacob Elting, will meet before October, 1955 to nominate a slate of officers. The annual election of officers will take place at the autumn meeting, or a meeting held before February 1956, so that the election will coincide with the annual meeting of the Holland Society in New York.

Practical Nurses Banquet

The Ulster county division of Practical Nurses will hold a banquet at the Casablanca Restaurant, 602 Broadway, May 26 at 7 p. m. Anyone planning to attend please make reservations by contacting Mrs. Francis Short or Miss Margaret Bowen.

CHILDREN AT WEDDING

A bride-to-be writes: "At several weddings which I have been to in the past, there were quite a few children present who caused much unnecessary confusion. I wish to avoid this at my wedding and am wondering what, if anything, I can put on the invitation so that guests will be sure not to bring along their children. Will you help me?"

If you address your wedding invitations to Mr. and Mrs. alone and make no mention of their children, they should certainly leave them at home. But if they are known to take the children everywhere they go, you could write at the bottom of the invitations, "Deeply regret that we are unable to include the children."

Taking Back First Husband's Name

Dear Mrs. Post: My first husband died, and two years later I remarried. This second marriage was a very unhappy one and after several years I divorced my husband. Would it be proper for me to go back to my first husband's name? I do not want any part of my second husband's name as it is very distasteful to me.

Answer: It is unusual but not unheard of for a woman to go back to her first husband's name—especially when she has children by this first marriage and wants to have the same name as theirs.

Thank You Is In Order

Dear Mrs. Post: A neighbor of ours sent my daughter a birthday card for her sixteenth birthday in which she enclosed a very pretty andkerchief. I told my daughter that I thought she should write, or telepone, Mrs. Neighbor and thank her for this thoughful gesture. But she does not think it is necessary to make a special point of saying thank you as a single handkerchief could hardly be considered a present. Will you please give us your opinion?

Answer: A handkerchief is definitely a present and should be thanked for.

Do you know how to reply to an introduction? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," includes this information. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Republican Women To Hold Spring Luncheon, May 21

The Ulster County Republican Women's Club will hold their annual luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Saturday, May 21, at 1 p. m.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. John R. Tinklepaugh, vice-chairman of the Columbia County Republican Committee. The topic will be : "Cultivating the Grass Roots for a Successful Republican Presidential Election in 1956."

It's a good idea not to repeat two fruit flavors in a dinner menu. If you are serving fruit as a first course, or as an accompaniment to the main course, you'll find coffee- or chocolate-flavored desserts make a fine ending to the meal.

Dedicate Library At New Paltz May 28

Dedication ceremonies for the new Library at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz are scheduled for Saturday, May 28, at 1:30 p. m. An Alumni reunion will be held in conjunction with the dedication.

Parents of the 900 students now enrolled at New Paltz, Governor Averell Harriman, State University officials, state legislators from this area, alumni of the college, and other dignitaries have been invited. The general public is also welcome.

Returning alumni will conduct their annual business meeting Saturday at 11 a. m. in the college auditorium and then have a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. in the College Union. Alumni classes of 1905, 1910, and 1930 will be honored. Joseph P. Foley, Alumni president, Poughkeepsie, will preside.

Appropriations for construction of the $784,000 Library building were authorized by the State Legislature in 1952, and the building was completed last fall. Along with seating space for about 300 readers and stack space for 60,000 volumes, it has modern equipment and facilities for study, research, and recreational reading.

Located between the Main Building and the College Union, the library faces the campus quadrangle and has an exterior design that harmonizes with the other buildings on the state university campus. An H-shaped plan provides large reading rooms on the main floor at either end of the building, connected by a lobby, smaller study rooms, and the bookstacks.

The library also contains a listening room for music records and an audio-visual area, two seminar rooms, a staff room, and a local history room which houses the library's collection of documents for the preservation of information about the Mid-Hudson area.

Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, will preside at the library dedication, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

Meeting for Audio Visual Planning At Teachers College

The State University Teachers College at New Paltz will be host at a meeting of school officials Thursday, May 26, to discuss the planning of schools for the use of audio-visual materials. The group will meet at 2 p. m. in the college library.

Donald P. Ely, director of audio-visual education at the College, will be chairman of the discussion group. The purpose of the meeting, Ely explained, is to bring together some experts in the field of school planning to discuss the problems of making plans, in the building of new schools, for more effective use of audio-visual materials.

"With so many new school buildings being planned and constructed in the Mid-Hudson valley," Ely pointed out, "the Audio-Visual committee of the Mid-Hudson Study Council feels that it is necessary to have this discussion meeting."

Questions which have been submitted by school administrators and audio-visual directors will be the focal point of the meeting. Consideration will be given to the needs of the present buildings, but emphasis will be placed on the proper planning of new school buildings. Slides and a film strip will be shown.

The meeting is open to all school officials and other interested persons, especially those who are in the process of planning new school buildings.

Miss Barbara Herzog, Gerard Scharschu United in Marriage

St. Colman's Church was the scene Thursday, May 19, at 6:30 p. m., of the wedding of Miss Barbara A. Herzog and Gerard J. Scharschu. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edmond V. Radford, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fred Herzog, Flatbush road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Scharschu, 15 Stickles avenue.

Given in marriage by her brother, Donald A. Herzog, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white organdy over taffeta and net, trimmed with eyelet lace and a shoulder-length nylon veil caught to a tulle crown of lilies of the valley. She carried a Colonial bouquet of shattered white carnations.

The maid of honor, Rita M. Herzog, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina length gown with an orchid dotted Swiss net over taffeta, trimmed with eyelet lace, matching head-piece and carried a Colonial bouquet of shattered pink carnations.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and palms. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

Richard I. Deyo, 5 Joy's Lane, was best man. The ushers were Joseph F. Fiore, brother-in-law of the bride and Francis J. McCullough, both of East Kingston.

Martin Kelly, accompanied by T eodore Riccobono, sang "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and other selections.

On her wedding trip to northern New York state, the bride wore a lavender dress with matching accessories, white faille coat, patent leather shoes, and pink carnation corsage. Upon their return, they will make their home in East Kingston.

The bride attended Kingston High School and is employed by the Stone Manufacturing Company, East Kingston.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed by Alfred Research Laboratory, East Kingston.

Legion Women Hold Drive for Sale of Magazines in County

Kingston Unit No. 150, American Legion Auxiliary, is conducting a magazine subscription drive in Ulster county, the proceeds of which will be used in buying more hospital equipment, which is available for home use throughout the county.

A duly certified representative with credentials signed by Mrs. Betty Sanford, chairman of hospital equipment and Mrs. Jeanne Bittner, president, will be visiting homes in the county shortly. All help and cooperation will be appreciated.

Holland Society Holds Meeting

Members of the Holland Society of New York, Ulster county branch, held their annual dinner-meeting at the Hotel Stuyvesant Saturday, May 14.

The nomination committee, consisting of Dr. Virgil B. DeWitt, Charles E. Deyo and Jacob Elting, will meet before October, 1955 to nominate a slate of officers. The annual election of officers will take place at the autumn meeting, or a meeting held before February 1956, so that the election will coincide with the annual meeting of the Holland Society in New York.

Practical Nurses Banquet

The Ulster county division of Practical Nurses will hold a banquet at the Casablanca Restaurant, 602 Broadway, May 26 at 7 p. m. Anyone planning to attend please make reservations by contacting Mrs. Francis Short or Miss Margaret Bowen.

Peter Cain Wins Scholarship at Kenyon College

PETER C. CAIN

Peter C. Cain, 17, of Kingston has been awarded a prize scholarship in Latin at Ohio's Kenyon College. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. William C. Cain of 85 Wurts street. At Kingston High School, Peter has been active on the staff of the yearbook, as chaplain of the Key Club, and as publicity director for the senior play. He has also been a member of the track and cross-country teams and of the band and orchestra. He belongs to both the National Honor Society and the French Honor Society.

Applications for Kenyon's special scholarships are received from all parts of the country. This year's awards went to graduating seniors in public and independent schools in Florida, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Maryland. Kenyon, which was established in 1824 by Philander Chase, first Episcopal bishop of Ohio, is the oldest liberal arts college for men west of the Alleghenies.

Sees World on Crest

Los Angeles, May 20 (AP)—The nation and the world are on the crest of great new religious enthusiasm, the newly elected leader of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America said today. "It is a major goal of the church to respond to this enthusiam and fulfill the need of the people," added Dr. Paul S. Wright of Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Guy Valeo Thanks Committees For Hospital Dance

Mrs. Guy Valeo, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital, at a recent meeting expressed appreciation to the following dance committees, which made the Spring dance a successful occasion.

Mrs. John A. Cooke and Mrs. Howard Fox, chairmen; Mrs. Harold Reis, publicity; Mrs. Vincent Guido, decorations; Misses Anne and Mary Campbell, finances; Mrs. G. Shonger, Mrs. F. Donahue and Mrs. J. McArdle, tickets.

Mrs. Valeo also expressed thanks to Miss Marianne Davis, Freeman Society Editor, and Bob Browning, WKNY, for the publicity given the dance, proceeds of which were applied toward reduction of the auxiliary's pledge for the new nurses' home.

Mrs. Valeo appointed Mrs. George F. Einterz and Mrs. William Powers as co-chairmen for the annual luncheon to be held Saturday, June 4, at the Brookside.

Mrs. Mortimer Englander of the Midway Gift Shop gave a demonstration on the art and needs for giving successful children's and adult parties.

Detects Heart Trouble

New York, May 20 (AP)—A radio device that can signal warnings of heart trouble is on display here. The device, developed by the navy, works this way: A transmitter fitted to a patient broadcasts electrocardiographic signals, measures of the heart beat and other audible heart sounds to a receiver. This enables a heart specialist to record changes in the heart while the patient is engaged in normal activities. Heretofore such records have been made with the patient in a resting position.

Door locks were very large in the Middle ages, sometimes more than 17 inches long with keys around 8 inches long.

Oriental Rugs Topic For Senate Museum Series on Wednesday

Oriental rugs will be the topic for the sixth in the Senate House Association's illustrated lecture series, to be held 8 p. m. Wednesday May 25, at St. James Methodist Church.

The speaker will be Joseph Vincent McMullan, prominent New York industrialist who has earned a reputation as expert in Oriental rug collecting. Part of his private collection of Turkish rugs was shown at the Fogg Museum of Art, Cambridge, last year, and has been described as "probably the largest and most varied collection of authentic Turkish rugs from the 16th century to the 19th which has ever been gathered under one roof."

Mr. McMullan is the author of an article, The Turkey Carpet in Early America, which appeared in Antiques magazine.

Although Mr. McMullan's predilection has been for Turkish color and design, he collected Persian, Mogul, Indian and Turkoman specimens. He has traveled widely in the rug-weaving countries which remain open to visitors, including Meshed in Eastern Persia, a pilgrimage city which has in the past shown little welcome to Westerners.

A number of his rugs are on view in the Near East department of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and others in the American Wing add considerably to the 17th and 18th century period rooms.

Dr. Igou, New Paltz Professor Speaks to Education Group

Final meeting of the Kingston branch of the Association for Childhood Education International was held at the George Washington School, May 17.

Dr. O. Lincoln Igou, professor of humanities at New Paltz State Teachers College was guest speaker. Using colored slides to illustrate his talk, Dr. Igou spoke on his recent trip to South America. He discussed its vastness, unpopulated area, transportation problems and different modes of living.

Mrs. Helen Terwilliger, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers for the coming year. They were unanimously elected as follows: Miss Isabel Flynn, of No. 6 school, president; Mrs. Annette Roosa, 1st vice-president; Miss Dorothy Smith, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Florence Christiana, recording secretary; Mrs. Alice Coffey, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Sharon Finch, treasurer.

Jewish Circle To Observe 48th Anniversary Date

Kingston Branch 125, Workmen's Circle, an organization of refugees from oppressive czarist rule of Russian dominated countries, will celebrate its 48th anniversary Sunday with a dinner and program at Svirsky's Esopus Lake Hotel, beginning at 5 p. m.

There will be speaking, followed by entertainment, it has been announced for the assemblage of organization members and their friends.

Dedicated to the promotion of freedom and liberty as found in their new homeland, members of the Circle are interested in social, cultural and spiritual advancement for their families in 39 states of the Union, Canada, France and Israel.

The Workmen's Circle is one of the largest Jewish organizations in the United States, and is reported growing steadily. Health clinics are conducted in some of the larger cities, and in Israel it has a large hospital and trade school.

Peter Cain Wins Scholarship at Kenyon College

PETER C. CAIN

Peter C. Cain, 17, of Kingston has been awarded a prize scholarship in Latin at Ohio's Kenyon College. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. William C. Cain of 85 Wurts street. At Kingston High School, Peter has been active on the staff of the yearbook, as chaplain of the Key Club, and as publicity director for the senior play. He has also been a member of the track and cross-country teams and of the band and orchestra. He belongs to both the National Honor Society and the French Honor Society.

Applications for Kenyon's special scholarships are received from all parts of the country. This year's awards went to graduating seniors in public and independent schools in Florida, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Maryland. Kenyon, which was established in 1824 by Philander Chase, first Episcopal bishop of Ohio, is the oldest liberal arts college for men west of the Alleghenies.

Sees World on Crest

Los Angeles, May 20 (AP)—The nation and the world are on the crest of great new religious enthusiasm, the newly elected leader of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America said today. "It is a major goal of the church to respond to this enthusiam and fulfill the need of the people," added Dr. Paul S. Wright of Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Guy Valeo Thanks Committees For Hospital Dance

Mrs. Guy Valeo, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital, at a recent meeting expressed appreciation to the following dance committees, which made the Spring dance a successful occasion.

Mrs. John A. Cooke and Mrs. Howard Fox, chairmen; Mrs. Harold Reis, publicity; Mrs. Vincent Guido, decorations; Misses Anne and Mary Campbell, finances; Mrs. G. Shonger, Mrs. F. Donahue and Mrs. J. McArdle, tickets.

Mrs. Valeo also expressed thanks to Miss Marianne Davis, Freeman Society Editor, and Bob Browning, WKNY, for the publicity given the dance, proceeds of which were applied toward reduction of the auxiliary's pledge for the new nurses' home.

Mrs. Valeo appointed Mrs. George F. Einterz and Mrs. William Powers as co-chairmen for the annual luncheon to be held Saturday, June 4, at the Brookside.

Mrs. Mortimer Englander of the Midway Gift Shop gave a demonstration on the art and needs for giving successful children's and adult parties.

Trains Crossing Charred Bridge At 10-Mile Pace

Albany, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—Mainline New York Central passenger trains today crept at 10 miles an hour across a Hudson river bridge charred in a spectacular fire.

The 85-year-old Maiden Lane bridge was out of service for nine hours yesterday after flames broke out in wooden cribbing under the center section and licked upward to sear ties and buckle track.

The cause of the fire, which caused damage estimated unofficially at $150,000 was not known. Maintenance crews had been at work with acetylene torches and rivets, and a Central official theorized that a hot rivet might have fallen into the oil-soaked framework.

The cribbing surrounds two concrete piers on which the center bridge span pivots to permit passage of large river vessels.

The fire burned out the electric mechanism that operates the span, and the U. S. Army engineers advised shipping that it was not known when it would be back in service.

Marchuk Convicted Of Giving Out Secrets

Berlin, May 20 (AP)—Pvt. William T. Marchuk of Norristown, Pa., who survived nearly six years in Soviet prison camps, was convicted today of giving military secrets to his Russian captors.

Marchuk, 39, was tried by a seven-officer court martial. It also found him guilty of deliberate desertion to the Communists in February 1949.

Sentence is expected later today. Marchuk could receive up to 30 years in prison. Whatever the sentence, it is subject to review by higher authorities.

Marchuk pleaded innocent to all charges. He did not take the witness stand in his own defense.

The doors of the courtroom were closed during a major portion of the trial since much of the evidence dealt with the activities of army intelligence unit in West Berlin in which Marchuk had served.

Marchuk blinked his eyes nervously as the verdict was announced. Otherwise he gave no outward show of emotion.

Gulick Would Start City Income Taxes

New York, May 20 (AP)—New York City Administrator Luther Gulick suggests that the nation's municipal officials explore the possibility of new types of personal income taxes to help solve their financial problems.

The municipal efficiency expert made the proposal yesterday in an address before the annual meeting of the United States Conference of Mayors.

He mentioned a European system, under which a supplementary municipal rate would be added to a state income tax, collected by the state, and returned to the cities imposing the supplement.

Gulick explained that his proposal "reflects my own views and not necessarily those of Mayor (Robert F.) Wagner's administration or of the government of the City of New York."

The conference is being attended by 600-odd mayors and other officials of 250 American ends tomorrow.

Copra is the meat of the coconut, which is detached from the shell and dried either by exposure to sun and air, or by an artificial drying process.

Offer Road Help, Seek Cut in Taxes

Berlin, May 20 (AP)—The U. S., British and French ambassadors relayed to Soviet Envoy G. M. Puskin today a West German offer to help pay for the maintenance of East German roads. The west asked the Communists in turn to cut taxes now hindering Berlin's highway lifeline to the west.

The offer of at least five million marks ($1,190,000) annually was presented by the western representatives at a meeting with Pushkin in the Soviet embassy in East Berlin. They traveled from Bonn to ask personally for Soviet intervention.

Although the ambassadors — America's James B. Conant, Britain's Sir Frederick Hoyer-Millar and Andre Francois-Poncet of France—were received with formal courtesies, Pushkin had made it clear that he consented to the meeting with great reluctance.

Island Dock Slates Launching of LCU

Island Dock, Inc., was scheduled to launch its 13th of 17 vessels ordered by the U. S. Navy Department today at 3 p. m. Today's launching was for LCU 1489 whose trial run is slated for the middle of July.

On Thursday two local shipyards delivered other vessels to the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Island Dock, Inc., delivered LCU 1472 and the C. Hiltebrant Dry Dock Co., delivered MSC 130 to the navy yard.

Japs Claim They Can Tell How Much Rain

Osaka, Japan, May 20 (AP)—Five Tokyo University scientists have developed a method which they say tells not only if it is going to rain, but how much.

The scientists published their finds before the Japan Meteorological Society Congress.

They claimed 100 per cent success in predicting time and extent of three typhoon-borne rainstorms here last year and in other tests, dating back to 1939.

The new system, the report said, is based on the amount of vapor in three stages of the earth's atmosphere — on the ground, at 3 kilometers (1.86 miles and 5 kilometers (3.1 miles).

The vapor is measured and figures for the next several hours are projected. The process is continually repeated. The scientists say there can be no error if the inital values are accurate.

The method requires electronic computing machines because of complex calculations involved. The university is building such a machine.

Polio Mother Gives Birth to Daughter

Cleveland, May 20 (AP)—Mrs. John Sands, stricken by polio two years ago, left her iron lung long enough to give birth to a bouncing baby girl, Joan Coletta.

The birth was carried out Wednesday in City Hospital, with Mrs. Sands, 23, under mild anesthesia. Doctors say the child is doing fine.

Wife of a law student, the mother has used mechanical breathing aids ever since she had polio. At home she gets along with a bubble type chest respirator. She has another daughter, Peggy, 4.

Offer Road Help, Seek Cut in Taxes

Berlin, May 20 (AP)—The U. S., British and French ambassadors relayed to Soviet Envoy G. M. Puskin today a West German offer to help pay for the maintenance of East German roads. The west asked the Communists in turn to cut taxes now hindering Berlin's highway lifeline to the west.

The offer of at least five million marks ($1,190,000) annually was presented by the western representatives at a meeting with Pushkin in the Soviet embassy in East Berlin. They traveled from Bonn to ask personally for Soviet intervention.

Although the ambassadors — America's James B. Conant, Britain's Sir Frederick Hoyer-Millar and Andre Francois-Poncet of France—were received with formal courtesies, Pushkin had made it clear that he consented to the meeting with great reluctance.

Island Dock Slates Launching of LCU

Island Dock, Inc., was scheduled to launch its 13th of 17 vessels ordered by the U. S. Navy Department today at 3 p. m. Today's launching was for LCU 1489 whose trial run is slated for the middle of July.

On Thursday two local shipyards delivered other vessels to the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Island Dock, Inc., delivered LCU 1472 and the C. Hiltebrant Dry Dock Co., delivered MSC 130 to the navy yard.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a copy of the Kingston Argus newspaper dated August 27, 1890. C. P. A. who sent it wrote card to me saying: "I know you are interested in old time remedies, some are advertised in this copy, also some of the old time doings in the Colonial City." My father used to say, a medicine has to be on the market for three years before he would only begin to have faith in it. I guess today's hurry-up world hasn't time to spend three years waiting for a medicine to prove itself. I see an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the 1890 newspaper, which I remember later on my father's shelves and is still very much on the market today. There are many such patent medicines which are still popular today. Scott's Emulsion is another such patent medicine advertised in the Kingston Argus 65 years ago.

Most of the items on the front page are of state, national or international importance and do not hold the interest of me as the local items on the inside pages. I like a local paper to carry mostly local items as I can always go to a New York paper for outside events. One item in this paper which should interest local historians reads as follows: "Messrs. Frank Hasbrouck and Irving Elting have had framed, with glass on both sides, so that it cannot be soiled, the original bargain with the Indians for the lands in the New Paltz patent. The document, which is now on the town clerk's office is written on both sides and is Dutch. It contains the names of 24 Indians with the mark of each. The first few lines are in English as follows: "I do allow of the within bargain, and shall grant Patents for ye when same payments made accordingly, before mee or magistrates of Esopus, E. Andross." E. Andross was the Colonial Governor of New York. Following the names of the 24 Indians are those of 12 witnesses among them Jan Elting and Thomas Chambers. I wonder where that paper is today. Thomas Chambers as folks know, came to this locality and fell in love with it, and being a carpenter, he started housing projects which we are continuing today. I hope the houses being built today will stand up as good as some of those 300 year old stone houses. They really were something.

More Kingstonians knew Coney Island years ago than they do now, for in those days they used to go on excursions to Coney Island. On September 1, 1890, Monday morning at 7 a. m. you could have boarded the steamer, James T. Brett, at Rondout and arrive at Franklin street in New York at 1 o'clock or you could have passed through the New York bay and harbor, saw a fine view of the Statue of Liberty, Brooklyn Bridge, and landed at Bay Ridge. From there a special train would take you to Coney Island. On the boat going and coming you would enjoy a full brass and string band, refreshments and dancing, and you would be back at Rondout at 11:30 p. m. No doubt the boat was crowded if it was a nice day. The round trip cost $1 and children went half fare. One of the New York newspaper columnist recently wrote up the New York buses and said to the effect that the horse cars could make better time. Perhaps that even goes for Kingston for the horse-cars ran on a strict schedule of 25 minutes from downtown to uptown, but they ran on a track and clanged their bell so they had the right of way. Today's buses have to put up with traffic which is in front of them. One slow driver in the center of the street can hold up entire Broadway traffic and often does.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Here's Tricky Hand For You to Figure

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How would you play today's hand at a contract of six diamonds? You are naturally interested in finding the safest reasonable line of play.

You win the first trick with the ace of clubs and ruff a club with dummy's three of diamonds. When this ruff gets by safely, you are practically home, provided that you take reasonable precautions.

The next step is to cash the ace of spades to prevent anybody from discarding spades on the next few tricks and then ruffing a spade later on. You return to your hand with the ace of hearts and ruff another club—with dummy's ace of trumps!

This cannot, of course, be overruffed. Hence East cannot prevent you from getting back to your hand with the king of hearts and leading your last club to ruff with dummy's nine of diamonds. Now East can overruff, if he likes, with the ten of diamonds, but that is the only trick that the defenders can get.

You would come a cropper if you ruffed with the nine of diamonds early instead of with the ace of diamonds. East would overruff and return a trump. This would leave you with a losing club still in your hand, while dummy had no trump for it.

There are several other ways of playing this hand successfully at diamonds, but the most normal method is to ruff out the losing clubs in the dummy. When following this normal method, however, you must take the precaution of ruffing one of the clubs with the ace of trumps to guard against an early overruff.

Cow Country Terms

Dallas, Tex. (AP) — Know the difference between a cowboy and a cowpuncher? Brand Inspector C. F. Barby of Kansas City explained it at a cattlemen's meeting. "In the days when men riding the train with cattle carried a lantern and a prod, they punched the cattle back to their feet with the prod when the stock lay down or fell." Consequently, the men who rode the cattle cars became known as cowpunchers. A cowboy, then and now, herded cattle on the range.

Roads to Politics

Chicago (AP) — Restaurateur Anton Kerscher now is convinced that politics is a tough road. In 1946, his place was torn down to make way for a new expressway. He blamed the Illinois Democratic administration and became a Republican. Now he has quit the Republicans because a new toll road connection between the expressway and the proposed Tri-State Turnpike will cut right through the new restaurant he built in 1951.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a copy of the Kingston Argus newspaper dated August 27, 1890. C. P. A. who sent it wrote card to me saying: "I know you are interested in old time remedies, some are advertised in this copy, also some of the old time doings in the Colonial City." My father used to say, a medicine has to be on the market for three years before he would only begin to have faith in it. I guess today's hurry-up world hasn't time to spend three years waiting for a medicine to prove itself. I see an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the 1890 newspaper, which I remember later on my father's shelves and is still very much on the market today. There are many such patent medicines which are still popular today. Scott's Emulsion is another such patent medicine advertised in the Kingston Argus 65 years ago.

Most of the items on the front page are of state, national or international importance and do not hold the interest of me as the local items on the inside pages. I like a local paper to carry mostly local items as I can always go to a New York paper for outside events. One item in this paper which should interest local historians reads as follows: "Messrs. Frank Hasbrouck and Irving Elting have had framed, with glass on both sides, so that it cannot be soiled, the original bargain with the Indians for the lands in the New Paltz patent. The document, which is now on the town clerk's office is written on both sides and is Dutch. It contains the names of 24 Indians with the mark of each. The first few lines are in English as follows: "I do allow of the within bargain, and shall grant Patents for ye when same payments made accordingly, before mee or magistrates of Esopus, E. Andross." E. Andross was the Colonial Governor of New York. Following the names of the 24 Indians are those of 12 witnesses among them Jan Elting and Thomas Chambers. I wonder where that paper is today. Thomas Chambers as folks know, came to this locality and fell in love with it, and being a carpenter, he started housing projects which we are continuing today. I hope the houses being built today will stand up as good as some of those 300 year old stone houses. They really were something.

More Kingstonians knew Coney Island years ago than they do now, for in those days they used to go on excursions to Coney Island. On September 1, 1890, Monday morning at 7 a. m. you could have boarded the steamer, James T. Brett, at Rondout and arrive at Franklin street in New York at 1 o'clock or you could have passed through the New York bay and harbor, saw a fine view of the Statue of Liberty, Brooklyn Bridge, and landed at Bay Ridge. From there a special train would take you to Coney Island. On the boat going and coming you would enjoy a full brass and string band, refreshments and dancing, and you would be back at Rondout at 11:30 p. m. No doubt the boat was crowded if it was a nice day. The round trip cost $1 and children went half fare. One of the New York newspaper columnist recently wrote up the New York buses and said to the effect that the horse cars could make better time. Perhaps that even goes for Kingston for the horse-cars ran on a strict schedule of 25 minutes from downtown to uptown, but they ran on a track and clanged their bell so they had the right of way. Today's buses have to put up with traffic which is in front of them. One slow driver in the center of the street can hold up entire Broadway traffic and often does.

Here's Tricky Hand For You to Figure

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How would you play today's hand at a contract of six diamonds? You are naturally interested in finding the safest reasonable line of play.

You win the first trick with the ace of clubs and ruff a club with dummy's three of diamonds. When this ruff gets by safely, you are practically home, provided that you take reasonable precautions.

The next step is to cash the ace of spades to prevent anybody from discarding spades on the next few tricks and then ruffing a spade later on. You return to your hand with the ace of hearts and ruff another club—with dummy's ace of trumps!

This cannot, of course, be overruffed. Hence East cannot prevent you from getting back to your hand with the king of hearts and leading your last club to ruff with dummy's nine of diamonds. Now East can overruff, if he likes, with the ten of diamonds, but that is the only trick that the defenders can get.

You would come a cropper if you ruffed with the nine of diamonds early instead of with the ace of diamonds. East would overruff and return a trump. This would leave you with a losing club still in your hand, while dummy had no trump for it.

There are several other ways of playing this hand successfully at diamonds, but the most normal method is to ruff out the losing clubs in the dummy. When following this normal method, however, you must take the precaution of ruffing one of the clubs with the ace of trumps to guard against an early overruff.

Tennis Squad Nears DUSO Title With 3-2 Win Over NFA

Baechtle in Star Role; Kantrowitz, Smith Trip McDonough and Kaplan

Thanks to a superb all-round performance by George Baechtle and a clutch victory in the No. 2 doubles, Kingston High's undefeated varsity tennis squad is still master of Newburgh Academy's once untouchable swingers.

Coach Ken Brown's inspired racqueteers proved that their recent victory over NFA was no fluke by repeating, 3-2 yesterday on the Newburgh courts.

AS AN ADDED accomplishment, Marty Kantrowitz and Capt. Richard "Red" Smith rallied from setbacks in the singles to overpower NFA's hitherto invincible tandem of Jack McDonough and Harold Kaplan, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

It was the first loss in three years for the Newburgh duo.

Yesterday's victory was the seventh straight for the Maroon and virtually cinched the 1955 league crown, barring mishaps and illness among the regulars.

With Kingston trailing 2-0 after the first two singles, Baechtle turned back Ernie Napoleon, 6-1, 6-2. McDonough had gained revenge on Kantrowitz, 6-3, 6-3 and Kaplan, the basketball whiz, had stopped Smith, 6-2, 6-2.

THE KANTROWITZ - Smith victory in the doubles tied the match at 2-2 and it was up to Baechtle and Ronnie Schoonmaker. And they did just that in a terrific three-set struggle with Napoleon and Richard Ochs.

The Newburgh tandem won the first set, 7-5, but Baechtle and Schoonmaker rallied to grab the next two and probably the DUSO title for Kingston, 6-3, 8-6. Schoonmaker played well but it was Baechtle's all-round brilliance that was the deciding factor.

Having destroyed the myth of Newburgh invincibility in convincing fashion, the Maroons now turn their attention to home matches next week with Monticello (Monday) and Poughkeepsie (Wednesday). The season's finale is carded at Middletown on May 31.

Quick Chief First

Westbury, May 20 (AP)—Quick Chief, winter book favorite for the Little Brown Jug, won the feature pace at Roosevelt Raceway last night. Irish was second and Amber Rodney third. Driven by William Haughton, Quick Chief paced the mile in 2:03 1/5 and paid $3.90.

Los Angeles—Petey Servin, 162, Los Angeles, stopped Govan Small, 158, Oakland, Calif., 10.

The Associated Press)

Guess who's the first National League pitcher to win six games this season. Roberts, Antonelli, Spahn, Erskine, Newcombe? Nope, it's a fellow named Jim Hearn, the righthander nobody wanted.

He picked up No. 6 yesterday at Milwaukee as the New York Giants beat the Braves 3-2 in the only major league game scheduled. That edged the Giants into second place, three percentage points ahead of the Chicago Cubs.

It was the fourth completed game for Hearn, who has lost two. Only Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Philadelphia's Robin Roberts have completed five.

THE BRAVES touched Hearn for 10 hits, but only two went for extra bases and he left eight stranded. After getting his 3-2 lead, the 6-3 200 pounder gave just four hits over the last five innings. In all, he fanned six and walked only one.

It was wildness that contributed to Hearn's 1954 disappointment. He was put on the shelf as a starter with the world champs after September 1 by Manager Leo Durocher. And at season's end, he was on the block.

But nobody stepped up to get Hearn, one of the stars in the Giants' little miracle of 1951. He won 17 that year, including the first game in the pennant playoff with Brooklyn.

Hardly anyone wanted Hearn in 1950, either, when St. Louis let him go to the Giants for the waiver price. Yet Jim, who came up with the Cards in 1947, led the league in 1950 with a 2.49 earned run average.

HEARN HAD ONE really shaky moment yesterday. Danny O'Connell made his fourth straight hit a leadoff double in the ninth. But Hearn let him get as far as third while ending it. Hank Aaron got the other long hit off Hearn, a solo homer in the second.

Willie Mays' single scored the first Giant run in the fourth and his sacrifice fly brought home the winning run in the fifth after Don Mueller's double had tied it and chased loser Ernie Johnson.

The Giants head home from the West 7½ games behind Brooklyn. New York is at Pittsburgh tonight to play the Pirates, who have lost seven straight, with Brooklyn at home again trying to snap a three-game losing streak against the Phils, who have lost 15 of their last 16.

St. Louis, having won five straight at home, is at Cincinnati and Chicago at Milwaukee in two other night games.

In the American, also playing under the lights, Cleveland takes its 1½ games lead to Detroit. Runnerup New York is home to Baltimore, pitching Bullet Bob Turley in his first night game of the year. The strong-arm righthander has fanned a league leading 69 in broad daylight so far.

Ashdown, Turck, Hoffman Hitting Aces in 5th Win

1st Sacker Slams Three-Run Homer

Two prize graduates of Little League baseball—Ronnie Ashdown and Joey Hoffman—combined to make Joe Pino's first starting assignment for Kingston High a successful venture yesterday at Catskill.

The Maroons won, 7 to 3, handing the Greene county tossers only their second setback in nine games. Kingston's record is now 5 and 3.

Ashdown and Turck each clubbed three hits, the former with a double and Hoffman pounded a three-run homer in the fourth to break a 2-2 deadlock.

PINO WENT THREE innings and left with the game tied at 1-1. He walked two and fanned two. Rennie Giannuzzi pitched shutout ball in the next three innings, with a walk and four strikeouts.

Jack Houghtaling was nicked for the final Catskill tallies in the seventh.

Big Bob Shelightner clubbed a triple for Kingston and the other safeties went to Jim Jackson, Jack Dawkins and Pino. Bob Maines, the club's leading hitter, was horse collared for the second straight time.

Kingston next plays Poughkeepsie High Monday at Dietz Stadium.

Indians Win Opener

Bill Boss Fans 13, Tribe Trips Yankees, 6-1

Esopus Legion LL Launches Season

Those Indians are still on the warpath in the Esopus Legion Little League.

Winners of the league championship for the three straight years of the loop's existence, the Tribe kicked off the 1955 season with a 6-1 victory over the Yankees, yesterday at Ross Park in Port Ewen.

Strangely, the winners were outhit by the losers, five to three, but Bill Boss was in charge in the clutches.

WITH a 1-1 TIE riding in a duel between Boss and Curtis King, the Indians came up with two runs in the fourth and three in the fifth to nail down the decision.

King permitted only three hits and fanned 10. Boss had 13 strikeout victims and walked only three to King's 11 and that was the difference.

Bob Turley Wants No Part Of Feller's Strikeout Mark

By ED CORRIGAN

New York, May 20 (AP)—Bob Feller set a modern major league strikeout rkecord of 348.

At his current rate, Bullet Bob Turley of the New York Yankees could erase the mark. But the youngster isn't interested. He doesn't even think he can do it.

When Feller set his mark, he pitched in 48 games for Cleveland. Tonight, against the Baltimore Orioles, Bob makes his eighth start. It is the club's 31st game, about one fifth of the total. He could get 40 starts, but that isn't likely because of the late-season doubleheader jamup.

SO SAY HE GETS into 36 or 37 games. If he continues his pace (he has 69 strikeouts in 62 innings), he could wind up with about 350 and a new mark.

"I don't think I have a chance to break Feller's record," he said. "He had two advantages when he had his big year. He was able to pitch in relief and he was on a team which had no chance of winning the pennant. That meant he could pitch out of turn to get more strikeouts."

But there are no relief assignments in sight for Turley. Yank manager Casey Stengel has all the firemen he needs and that's fine with Bob.

"I RELIEVED only in my first season with the St. Louis Browns when I came out of the service in midseason," he said. "They wanted to look me over before starting me. Last year, in Baltimore, I didn't work in the bullpen at all.

"No, I'm not going for Feller's record. Anyhow, winning the pennant is more important thany any records. Maybe Feller pitched too much that year and hurt his arm. He must have taken something out of it because half the pitchers of his age in this league right now can throw harder than he does. I don't want one big year if it does that to a fellow."

St. Paul—Del Flanagan, 157, St. Paul, outpointed Al Andrews, 159, St. Paul, 10.

Trapshoot Set At Tillson Club

Rosendale Sportsmen's Association will sponsor a trapshoot Sunday, May 22, at their Tillson club grounds.

Proceeds of the shoot will go to the Cerebral Palsy fund. Several attractive merchandise prizes will be awarded the winners. The Rosendale shoot for the fund was highly successful last year and another banner turnout is expected this year.

Alston Restores Jackie to Third

Brooklyn, May 20 (AP) — Jackie-of-all-trades Robinson, who has been riding out a fierce batting slump, is the "new" third baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Manager Walt Alston announced today that he was abandoning his revolving door method of handling the third base job. Don Zimmer and Don Hoak return to the bench and Robinson, hitting an anemic .230, takes over the position again.

"I don't think it does any of them any good to keep switching," said Alston. Jackie should hit. He always has. I'm going to give him a real long chance to get going."

"The pitchers have respect for Robinson," said Alston, "and they at least know he can hit. That will put pressure on them. And he's liable to bust out any time."

Jackie himself isn't worried.

"I feel good, better than I've felt in the last four years," he commented. "I just can't explain why I'm not hitting.

Westrope Set Down

New York, May 20 (AP) — Jockey Jack Westrope has been suspended for 10 racing days, effective Saturday, for a "listless ride" on Marquesan in Wednesday's fifth race at Belmont. Marquesan, a first time starter at 11-1 odds, finished fifth.

Tennis Squad Nears DUSO Title With 3-2 Win Over NFA

Baechtle in Star Role; Kantrowitz, Smith Trip McDonough and Kaplan

Thanks to a superb all-round performance by George Baechtle and a clutch victory in the No. 2 doubles, Kingston High's undefeated varsity tennis squad is still master of Newburgh Academy's once untouchable swingers.

Coach Ken Brown's inspired racqueteers proved that their recent victory over NFA was no fluke by repeating, 3-2 yesterday on the Newburgh courts.

AS AN ADDED accomplishment, Marty Kantrowitz and Capt. Richard "Red" Smith rallied from setbacks in the singles to overpower NFA's hitherto invincible tandem of Jack McDonough and Harold Kaplan, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

It was the first loss in three years for the Newburgh duo.

Yesterday's victory was the seventh straight for the Maroon and virtually cinched the 1955 league crown, barring mishaps and illness among the regulars.

With Kingston trailing 2-0 after the first two singles, Baechtle turned back Ernie Napoleon, 6-1, 6-2. McDonough had gained revenge on Kantrowitz, 6-3, 6-3 and Kaplan, the basketball whiz, had stopped Smith, 6-2, 6-2.

THE KANTROWITZ - Smith victory in the doubles tied the match at 2-2 and it was up to Baechtle and Ronnie Schoonmaker. And they did just that in a terrific three-set struggle with Napoleon and Richard Ochs.

The Newburgh tandem won the first set, 7-5, but Baechtle and Schoonmaker rallied to grab the next two and probably the DUSO title for Kingston, 6-3, 8-6. Schoonmaker played well but it was Baechtle's all-round brilliance that was the deciding factor.

Having destroyed the myth of Newburgh invincibility in convincing fashion, the Maroons now turn their attention to home matches next week with Monticello (Monday) and Poughkeepsie (Wednesday). The season's finale is carded at Middletown on May 31.

Quick Chief First

Westbury, May 20 (AP)—Quick Chief, winter book favorite for the Little Brown Jug, won the feature pace at Roosevelt Raceway last night. Irish was second and Amber Rodney third. Driven by William Haughton, Quick Chief paced the mile in 2:03 1/5 and paid $3.90.

Los Angeles—Petey Servin, 162, Los Angeles, stopped Govan Small, 158, Oakland, Calif., 10.

Cliff Miller has made his mark in the outboard field and is credited with four titles. He is the New York state champion in Class A Utlity and Class A Hydro; New England States champion in Class A Hydro; high point winner in Hydro Class in New York state; and is a two-time winner in the President's Gold Cup competition in Washington, D. C.

Jesse Jewell of Schenectady, national Class A Stock Hydro, will be in Sunday's field.

Indians Win Opener

Esopus Legion LL Launches Season

Those Indians are still on the warpath in the Esopus Legion Little League.

Winners of the league championship for the three straight years of the loop's existence, the Tribe kicked off the 1955 season with a 6-1 victory over the Yankees, yesterday at Ross Park in Port Ewen.

Strangely, the winners were outhit by the losers, five to three, but Bill Boss was in charge in the clutches.

WITH a 1-1 TIE riding in a duel between Boss and Curtis King, the Indians came up with two runs in the fourth and three in the fifth to nail down the decision.

King permitted only three hits and fanned 10. Boss had 13 strikeout victims and walked only three to King's 11 and that was the difference.

King, who batted in the unusual role leadoff for a pitcher, cracked a double and triple in two trips.

No other player got more than one hit with Ted Banyan, Robert Miller and Louis Linn poling triples.

Bob Turley Wants No Part Of Feller's Strikeout Mark

By ED CORRIGAN

New York, May 20 (AP)—Bob Feller set a modern major league strikeout rkecord of 348.

At his current rate, Bullet Bob Turley of the New York Yankees could erase the mark. But the youngster isn't interested. He doesn't even think he can do it.

When Feller set his mark, he pitched in 48 games for Cleveland. Tonight, against the Baltimore Orioles, Bob makes his eighth start. It is the club's 31st game, about one fifth of the total. He could get 40 starts, but that isn't likely because of the late-season doubleheader jamup.

SO SAY HE GETS into 36 or 37 games. If he continues his pace (he has 69 strikeouts in 62 innings), he could wind up with about 350 and a new mark.

"I don't think I have a chance to break Feller's record," he said. "He had two advantages when he had his big year. He was able to pitch in relief and he was on a team which had no chance of winning the pennant. That meant he could pitch out of turn to get more strikeouts."

But there are no relief assignments in sight for Turley. Yank manager Casey Stengel has all the firemen he needs and that's fine with Bob.

"I RELIEVED only in my first season with the St. Louis Browns when I came out of the service in midseason," he said. "They wanted to look me over before starting me. Last year, in Baltimore, I didn't work in the bullpen at all.

"No, I'm not going for Feller's record. Anyhow, winning the pennant is more important thany any records. Maybe Feller pitched too much that year and hurt his arm. He must have taken something out of it because half the pitchers of his age in this league right now can throw harder than he does. I don't want one big year if it does that to a fellow."

St. Paul—Del Flanagan, 157, St. Paul, outpointed Al Andrews, 159, St. Paul, 10.

Trapshoot Set At Tillson Club

Rosendale Sportsmen's Association will sponsor a trapshoot Sunday, May 22, at their Tillson club grounds.

Proceeds of the shoot will go to the Cerebral Palsy fund. Several attractive merchandise prizes will be awarded the winners. The Rosendale shoot for the fund was highly successful last year and another banner turnout is expected this year.

Alston Restores Jackie to Third

Brooklyn, May 20 (AP) — Jackie-of-all-trades Robinson, who has been riding out a fierce batting slump, is the "new" third baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Manager Walt Alston announced today that he was abandoning his revolving door method of handling the third base job. Don Zimmer and Don Hoak return to the bench and Robinson, hitting an anemic .230, takes over the position again.

"I don't think it does any of them any good to keep switching," said Alston. Jackie should hit. He always has. I'm going to give him a real long chance to get going."

"The pitchers have respect for Robinson," said Alston, "and they at least know he can hit. That will put pressure on them. And he's liable to bust out any time."

Jackie himself isn't worried. "I feel good, better than I've felt in the last four years," he commented. "I just can't explain why I'm not hitting.

Westrope Set Down

New York, May 20 (AP) — Jockey Jack Westrope has been suspended for 10 racing days, effective Saturday, for a "listless ride" on Marquesan in Wednesday's fifth race at Belmont. Marquesan, a first time starter at 11-1 odds, finished fifth.

THE SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press)

Guess who's the first National League pitcher to win six games this season. Roberts, Antonelli, Spahn, Erskine, Newcombe? Nope, it's a fellow named Jim Hearn, the righthander nobody wanted.

He picked up No. 6 yesterday at Milwaukee as the New York Giants beat the Braves 3-2 in the only major league game scheduled. That edged the Giants into second place, three percentage points ahead of the Chicago Cubs.

It was the fourth completed game for Hearn, who has lost two. Only Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Philadelphia's Robin Roberts have completed five.

THE BRAVES touched Hearn for 10 hits, but only two went for extra bases and he left eight stranded. After getting his 3-2 lead, the 6-3 200 pounder gave just four hits over the last five innings. In all, he fanned six and walked only one.

It was wildness that contributed to Hearn's 1954 disappointment. He was put on the shelf as a starter with the world champs after September 1 by Manager Leo Durocher. And at season's end, he was on the block.

But nobody stepped up to get Hearn, one of the stars in the Giants' little miracle of 1951. He won 17 that year, including the first game in the pennant playoff with Brooklyn.

Hardly anyone wanted Hearn in 1950, either, when St. Louis let him go to the Giants for the waiver price. Yet Jim, who came up with the Cards in 1947, led the league in 1950 with a 2.49 earned run average.

HEARN HAD ONE really shaky moment yesterday. Danny O'Connell made his fourth straight hit a leadoff double in the ninth. But Hearn let him get as far as third while ending it. Hank Aaron got the other long hit off Hearn, a solo homer in the second.

Willie Mays' single scored the first Giant run in the fourth and his sacrifice fly brought home the winning run in the fifth after Don Mueller's double had tied it and chased loser Ernie Johnson.

The Giants head home from the West 7½ games behind Brooklyn. New York is at Pittsburgh tonight to play the Pirates, who have lost seven straight, with Brooklyn at home again trying to snap a three-game losing streak against the Phils, who have lost 15 of their last 16.

St. Louis, having won five straight at home, is at Cincinnati and Chicago at Milwaukee in two other night games.

In the American, also playing under the lights, Cleveland takes its 1½ games lead to Detroit. Runnerup New York is home to Baltimore, pitching Bullet Bob Turley in his first night game of the year. The strong-arm righthander has fanned a league leading 69 in broad daylight so far.

BIG LEAGUE WAY

Crespino Socks Homer, 3 Singles

Joe Venuti pitched an 8-hit shutout as Perry's Rest crushed Cedar Rest, 18-0, in the City Softball League yesterday.

In other games, Krovans blasted Kaplan Bag, 20-4, and Subway Grill gained an early lead to outlast Hercules, 7 to 5.

Perry's clubbed Tesoro for 14 hits, including a homer and three singles by John Crespino. Cliff Davis powered a double and two singles for the winners. Whittaker had two hits for Cedar Rest.

KROVANS POWERED 23 hits and scored in every turn at bat to overwhelm Kaplans. Meanwhile, Savino scattered seven hits.

Chatham and Nash slugged homers for Krovans, while Krom and Richter pounded three hits each. T. Beland collected three hits for Kaplans.

Home runs by Tommy Maines and L. Tomaseskie represented the margin of victory for Subway Grill over Hercules. Tomaseskie also had a double and single as Tom Spada pitched 5-hit ball. F. Hastings was the Hercules leader with a double and single.

Haynes, Jackson Grab Two Firsts; Marabella Stars

Maroons Capture 13 of 14 Events

Led by Fred Jackson and Robert Haynes, the Kingston High school track squad won 13 of 14 events to bury Poughkeepsie High, 98-15, yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

Jackson captured the javelin and high jump, while Haynes won the 100 yard dash and broad jump.

Coach G. Warren Kias' thinclads swept all three places in the 180 yard hurdles, 100 yard dash, 220, 880, pole vault and discus.

HAYNES WAS clocked in 10.7 in the 100 and leaped 18 feet 7 inches to take the broad jump. Jackson leaped 5 feet 6 inches in the high jump and took the javelin with a toss of 128 feet, 4 inches.

Irving Zwilling launched Kingston on the road to victory with a first in the 180-yard hurdles in 23.8 seconds.

The lone Poughkeepsie victory came in the mile where veteran Ronnie Dutcher outclassed the field in a 4:49.5 clocking.

Paul Modjeska streaked home first in the 220 in 24.1 seconds after placing second behind Haynes in the century.

LAWRENCE REER grabbed the 440 (56.3 seconds) and Tandy Taylor the 880 in 2:15.2 for Kingston. The winning Kingston relay team included Haynes, Larry Johnson, Smith and Modjeska) and they were timed in 47.6 seconds.

Robert Sember's heave of 36 feet 6½ inches in the shotput was good enough for first place. George Hamilton came through in the discus with a heave of 109 feet, 5 inches.

One of Kingston's best performances was turned in by Matthew Marabella, who vaulted 11 feet 3 inches in his specialty.

After eliminating the opposition Marabella had the crossbars set at 12 feet but failed. The school record of 11 feet 6¾ inches was set by John Weber in 1949:

The summaries:

180 yard hurdles — Won by Zwilling, K; 2. Drake, K; 3. Frodsham, K. Time: 23.8 seconds.

100 yards—Won by Haynes, K; 2. Modjeska, K; 3. Van Buren, K. Time: 10.7.

Johnny Ferraro Paces Major Pinmen With 195

Only Three Keglers In '190' Bracket

The perennial leader is Johnny Ferraro, of course, with a 195.15 mark for 102 games. Larry Petersen Jr., was second with 190.90 and Randy Kelder got the show spot with 190.46. This trio only landed in the coveted "190" circle.

GOVERNOR CLINTON Market won the team race with 71 wins and 34 losses, for an eight-game margin over the runnerup Hayes-Jarrett Motors. The Marketmen shot 3015 high series and Nadler Motors hit 1095 for team high single.

George Shufeldt's 289 was high individual single and Shufeldt tied with Harold Broskie for high series with 686. Shufeldt won the rolloff for the league prize.

Perrys Blank Rest, 18-0 Behind Joe Venuti

BIG LEAGUE WAY

Crespino Socks Homer, 3 Singles

Joe Venuti pitched an 8-hit shutout as Perry's Rest crushed Cedar Rest, 18-0, in the City Softball League yesterday.

In other games, Krovans blasted Kaplan Bag, 20-4, and Subway Grill gained an early lead to outlast Hercules, 7 to 5.

Perry's clubbed Tesoro for 14 hits, including a homer and three singles by John Crespino. Cliff Davis powered a double and two singles for the winners. Whittaker had two hits for Cedar Rest.

KROVANS POWERED 23 hits and scored in every turn at bat to overwhelm Kaplans. Meanwhile, Savino scattered seven hits.

Chatham and Nash slugged homers for Krovans, while Krom and Richter pounded three hits each. T. Beland collected three hits for Kaplans.

Home runs by Tommy Maines and L. Tomaseskie represented the margin of victory for Subway Grill over Hercules. Tomaseskie also had a double and single as Tom Spada pitched 5-hit ball. F. Hastings was the Hercules leader with a double and single.

Haynes, Jackson Grab Two Firsts; Marabella Stars

Maroons Capture 13 of 14 Events

Led by Fred Jackson and Robert Haynes, the Kingston High school track squad won 13 of 14 events to bury Poughkeepsie High, 98-15, yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

Jackson captured the javelin and high jump, while Haynes won the 100 yard dash and broad jump.

Coach G. Warren Kias' thinclads swept all three places in the 180 yard hurdles, 100 yard dash, 220, 880, pole vault and discus.

HAYNES WAS clocked in 10.7 in the 100 and leaped 18 feet 7 inches to take the broad jump. Jackson leaped 5 feet 6 inches in the high jump and took the javelin with a toss of 128 feet, 4 inches.

Irving Zwilling launched Kingston on the road to victory with a first in the 180-yard hurdles in 23.8 seconds.

The lone Poughkeepsie victory came in the mile where veteran Ronnie Dutcher outclassed the field in a 4:49.5 clocking.

Paul Modjeska streaked home first in the 220 in 24.1 seconds after placing second behind Haynes in the century.

LAWRENCE REER grabbed the 440 (56.3 seconds) and Tandy Taylor the 880 in 2:15.2 for Kingston. The winning Kingston relay team included Haynes, Larry Johnson, Smith and Modjeska) and they were timed in 47.6 seconds.

Robert Sember's heave of 36 feet 6½ inches in the shotput was good enough for first place. George Hamilton came through in the discus with a heave of 109 feet, 5 inches.

One of Kingston's best performances was turned in by Matthew Marabella, who vaulted 11 feet 3 inches in his specialty.

After eliminating the opposition Marabella had the crossbars set at 12 feet but failed. The school record of 11 feet 6¾ inches was set by John Weber in 1949:

The summaries:

180 yard hurdles — Won by Zwilling, K; 2. Drake, K; 3. Frodsham, K. Time: 23.8 seconds.

Tonight's TV Bout

Gil Turner, 151, Philadelphia, who has won his last six bouts, meets Ramon Fuentes of Los Angeles in the televised feature tonight at Madison Square Garden. The bout will be carried by NBC-TV and radio, 9 p. m., EST.

THE ROCK TAKES IT EASY—Heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano, tanned and practically unmarked from his title fight with Don Cockell, May 16, enjoys life with his family as he begins a week's visit at the home of a friend, sportsman Irv Berman, in Beverly Hills, Cal. The champion said he has never felt better, and has never thought of quitting the ring. With him are his wife, Barbara, and daughter Maryanne, 2½. (AP Wirephoto).

CYO-HOLY NAME LEAGUE FETES WINNERS: The Rev. Joseph Geis, pastor of St. Peter's Church, Kingston, is being presented with the first place bowling trophy by John Sweeney, president of the CYO-Holy Name league. In usual order: Art Smith Jr., Gerard Kearney, John Zeeh, Father Geis, John Sweeney, Father Farrelly, Ulster CYO Moderator; Gerry Smith, John Raible and Nick Bruck. The champs were feted at the annual banquet at the Capri in Port Ewen. St. Peter's No. 2, the champions, will roll in the semi-finals at the Bowlodrome against the winners of Westchester county. (J. P. Fautz photo).

Johnny Ferraro Paces Major Pinmen With 195

Only Three Keglers In '190' Bracket

The 190 average still remains an elusive target, Ferraro Major League statistics for the second straight year reveal.

The perennial leader is Johnny Ferraro, of course, with a 195.15 mark for 102 games. Larry Petersen Jr., was second with 190.90 and Randy Kelder got the show spot with 190.46. This trio only landed in the coveted "190" circle.

GOVERNOR CLINTON Market won the team race with 71 wins and 34 losses, for an eight-game margin over the runnerup Hayes-Jarrett Motors. The Marketmen shot 3015 high series and Nadler Motors hit 1095 for team high single.

George Shufeldt's 289 was high individual single and Shufeldt tied with Harold Broskie for high series with 686. Shufeldt won the rolloff for the league prize.

The final statistics:

Onteora Students Receive Regents Scholarships From Education Department

NORMA THOMPSON

SANDRA BONESIO

Onteora Central School officials announced today Miss Norma Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson of Willow and Miss Sandra Bonesio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonesio of Boiceville have been awarded Regents Scholarships by the New York State Department of Education. Twenty scholarships are available for Ulster county. The holders of these scholarships will be entitled to $350 per year for a college course while attending any college in the State of New York approved by the Regents for this purpose.

This is the first time any student of the Onteora Central School has earned a state scholarship. Last year was the first year the school had a graduating class. Ellenville High School received six scholarships, Kingston High School seven, Margaretville Central School one, Saugerties High School one, Marlboro Central school two and New Paltz Central School one.

Police Check Post

Winthrop, Mass., May 20 (AP) —Town police set up a check of all vehicles and personnel entering or leaving Fort Banks, an army post, today after fort authorities declined to turn over a soldier accused of assaulting a 15-year-old Winthrop girl. Five policemen were at the Fort's main gate checking credentials and equipment. Normally there is steady traffic in and out of the fort.

Onteora Students Receive Regents Scholarships From Education Department

NORMA THOMPSON

SANDRA BONESIO

Onteora Central School officials announced today Miss Norma Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson of Willow and Miss Sandra Bonesio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonesio of Boiceville have been awarded Regents Scholarships by the New York State Department of Education. Twenty scholarships are available for Ulster county. The holders of these scholarships will be entitled to $350 per year for a college course while attending any college in the State of New York approved by the Regents for this purpose.

This is the first time any student of the Onteora Central School has earned a state scholarship. Last year was the first year the school had a graduating class. Ellenville High School received six scholarships, Kingston High School seven, Margaretville Central School one, Saugerties High School one, Marlboro Central school two and New Paltz Central School one.

Police Check Post

Winthrop, Mass., May 20 (AP)—Town police set up a check of all vehicles and personnel entering or leaving Fort Banks, an army post, today after fort authorities declined to turn over a soldier accused of assaulting a 15-year-old Winthrop girl. Five policemen were at the Fort's main gate checking credentials and equipment. Normally there is steady traffic in and out of the fort.

The Weather

FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1955

Sun rises at 4:31 a. m.; sun sets at 7:14 p. m., EST.
Weather, fair.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 44 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 68 degrees.

Weather Forecast

NEW YORK CITY and vicinity: Fair this afternoon with temperatures close to 70. Fair tonight with temperatures much the same as last night, lowest, 50 to 55 in the city but in the 40s in the suburban areas. Saturday, mostly fair with temperatures about the same as today, highest around 70. Gentle to moderate northwest winds this afternoon, tonight and early Saturday.

OUTLOOK: Sunday some cloudiness and warm; Monday, partly cloudy and not much change in temperature.

EASTERN New York: Continued fair and dry through tomorrow with moderate temperatures today, highest in the upper 50s in the northern mountains and in the 60s elsewhere. Cool again tonight, low temperatures 35 to 45. Warmer tomorrow.

Needs Are Cited

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The Weather Bureau needs more money and a better hurricane warning system, the New England Congressional Committee has decided. To achieve this goal, the committee agreed yesterday that Rep. Fogarty (D-R.I.), of the House Appropriations Committee, would offer an amendment to the Commerce Department appropriation bill when it comes up for debate Tuesday. The amendment would add $3,850,000 to the $27,650,000 recommended for the bureau during the year beginning July 1.

Conversion Not Easy In Japan, Says Cleric

Seattle, May 20 (AP)—The Rev. Jacob DeShazer, who has visited Japan with both bombs and Bibles, has returned to America for a bit of spiritual refueling.

The refueling will be a year of theological study to better equip him for what he says is an increasingly difficult battle of Christianity to gain a foothold in the land of Buddhism and Shintoism.

Three times he has gone to Japan and each time he has come back consecrated to the life of a missionary in that far country where Christianity once was a capital crime.

The first trip was in 1952. He was Sgt. DeShazer then, one of the Doolittle raiders who led the first allied aerial strike against Japan in World War 2. He parachuted from his UN bombing plane into 34 months imprisonment, his only companion a Bible he found in his cell.

The Bible had a message for the youthful Madras, Ore., flier and he vowed to return to spread that message. He did, in 1948, as a missionary for the Free Methodist Church.

He returned for a few weeks in 1953, then went back to the vast, virtually untilled fields to sew the seeds of Christianity.

This week, he and his wife and four children, three of them born in Japan, arrived here to begin studies for a year.

The work he has done thus far in Japan, he said, has been difficult; the seeds he has sown have not fallen on ground he would call particularly fertile.

"Japan," he said, "seems convinced that Christianity is a western religion—that Buddhism is for Japan."

The Weather

FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1955

Sun rises at 4:31 a. m.; sun sets at 7:14 p. m., EST.

Weather, fair.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 44 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 68 degrees.

Weather Forecast

NEW YORK CITY and vicinity: Fair this afternoon with temperatures close to 70. Fair tonight with temperatures much the same as last night, lowest, 50 to 55 in the city but in the 40s in the suburban areas. Saturday, mostly fair with temperatures about the same as today, highest around 70. Gentle to moderate northwest winds this afternoon, tonight and early Saturday.

OUTLOOK: Sunday some cloudiness and warm; Monday, partly cloudy and not much change in temperature.

EASTERN New York: Continued fair and dry through tomorrow with moderate temperatures today, highest in the upper 50s in the northern mountains and in the 60s elsewhere. Cool again tonight, low temperatures 35 to 45. Warmer tomorrow.

Needs Are Cited

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The Weather Bureau needs more money and a better hurricane warning system, the New England Congressional Committee has decided. To achieve this goal, the committee agreed yesterday that Rep. Fogarty (D-R.I.), of the House Appropriations Committee, would offer an amendment to the Commerce Department appropriation bill when it comes up for debate Tuesday. The amendment would add $3,850,000 to the $27,650,000 recommended for the bureau during the year beginning July 1.

ConventionBoard Names Rappaport

Rabbi H. Zaidel Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim, 24 West Union street, has been appointed by Rabbi Bernard Greenbaum, chairman of the 13th annual convention of the Rabbinical Alliance of America, to serve on the planning board.

The convention will be held in Spring Valley, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 27, 28 and 29, the 7th, 8th and 9th day of Tamuz 5715.

Over 400 rabbis serving the American Orthodox Jewish Communities will meet and discuss the issues facing Orthodoxy today. National prominent and lay leaders will participate in this conclave.

Synagogue News

AGUDAS ACHIM, 24 West Union street, Rabbi E. Z. Rappaport, DD—Open daily for prayer, meditation and comfort. Formal services daily at 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. Saturday morning services at 8:30. Rabbi Rappaport will speak on the topic, "Is the Tradition of Moses Vital Today." Afternoon service at 7:45 to be followed by Sholosh Sudos and rabbi's lecture on the "Ethics of the Fathers." Sunday morning service at 8. A special meeting of the Men's Club will take place Monday at 8:30 p. m., in the vestry hall. Hebrew school classes will meet every afternoon at their regular hours.

Conversion Not Easy In Japan, Says Cleric

Seattle, May 20 (AP)—The Rev. Jacob DeShazer, who has visited Japan with both bombs and Bibles, has returned to America for a bit of spiritual refueling.

The refueling will be a year of theological study to better equip him for what he says is an increasingly difficult battle of Christianity to gain a foothold in the land of Buddhism and Shintoism.

Three times he has gone to Japan and each time he has come back consecrated to the life of a missionary in that far country where Christianity once was a capital crime.

The first trip was in 1952. He was Sgt. DeShazer then, one of the Doolittle raiders who led the first allied aerial strike against Japan in World War 2. He parachuted from his UN bombing plane into 34 months imprisonment, his only companion a Bible he found in his cell.

The Bible had a message for the youthful Madras, Ore., flier and he vowed to return to spread that message. He did, in 1948, as a missionary for the Free Methodist Church.

He returned for a few weeks in 1953, then went back to the vast, virtually untilled fields to sew the seeds of Christianity.

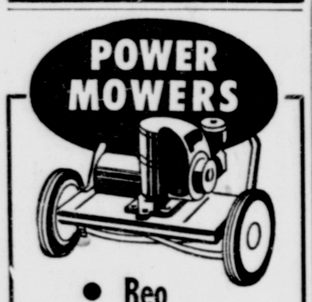

This week, he and his wife and four children, three of them born in Japan, arrived here to begin studies for a year.

The work he has done thus far in Japan, he said, has been difficult; the seeds he has sown have not fallen on ground he would call particularly fertile.

"Japan," he said, "seems convinced that Christianity is a western religion—that Buddhism is for Japan."
